Say Trio Gave Aid In Escape

Two women and a man were arrested Monday and charged with harboring or conspiring to harbor Dallas Martin Taylor, one of four inmates who escaped from the Berrien county jail Saturday night.

Asst. Prosecutor Paul Maloney said the three allegedly drove Taylor "around Berrien county, mainly in St. Joseph," or allowed him to stay at their residences.

The three pleaded innocent to misdemeanor charges in Berrien District court. They are:

James Pershing (Butch) Davis, 30, of Benton Heights, and Geraldine A. Milliken, 31, of 5082 Paw Paw Lake road, Coloma township, charged with conspiring to harbor a person Saturday who had escaped from custody.

Marlene Showan, 27, also of 5082 Paw Paw Lake road, charged with harboring a person Sunday at her residence who escaped from custody.

Taylor was recaptured by police Sunday afternoon in Coloma township.

The conspiracy charges against Davis and Geraldine Milliken carry a maximum penalty of one year in the county jail, according to the warrants. The harboring charge against Marlene Showan carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail. After their arraignments they were jailed under bonds ranging from $2,500 to $10,000.

Maloney said Davis and Geraldine Milliken allegedly transported Dallas Taylor on Saturday night sometime after the escape, which was discovered around 8:45 p.m. Taylor allegedly spent the night at the Marlene Showan residence, which she shares with the other arrested woman, according to Maloney.

Yesterday Maloney authorized jail escape charges against the four escapees. The two in custody, Taylor and Thomas P. Moore, will be arraigned today, he said. Moore was recaptured in St. Joseph about 90 minutes after the jail break alarm.

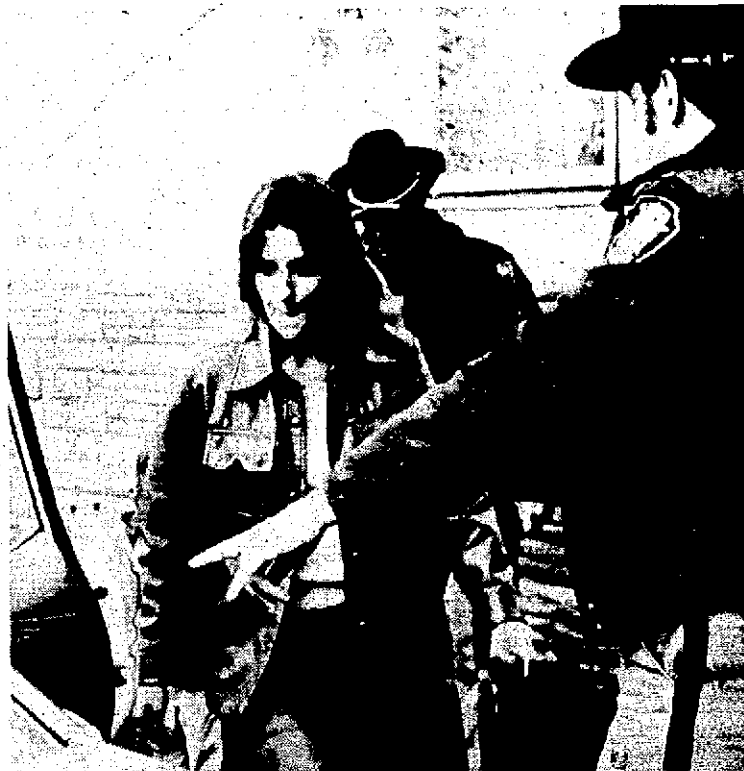

Police are still searching for James Watson and Oliver A. Hardy, the other escapees. The four allegedly pried the locks off of their cell door and cut through metal security screen to make their escape.

Undersheriff Edward Sanders said this morning there were no new leads to the whereabouts of Watson and Hardy.

Hardy, 24, of Kankakee, Ill., was to have been sentenced yesterday in Berrien Circuit court on a charge of unarmed robbery at a Benton township restaurant.

Acquit Teen In Death Of Ex-BH Man

From Associated Press
DETROIT — A 17-year-old Detroit youth, accused in the slaying last November of a former Fairplain man in an Olympia stadium parking lot here, was found innocent Monday by a Recorder's Court jury.

Rutherford (Bo) Massenberg was acquitted on charges of murder and robbery by a jury of two men and 10 women after three hours of deliberation. Massenberg was charged in the shooting death of David M. Jones, 31, of Farmington Hills, vice president of Graham Mortgage Co. in suburban Southfield last Nov. 7. Jones was killed as he walked in a darkened parking lot outside Olympia stadium to get his car following a tennis match reception at the stadium.

The victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jones, formerly of 1843 Commonwealth road, Fairplain, and a 1963 graduate of Benton Harbor high school. The parents now reside in Holiday, Fla.

His widow is the former Catherine Beal, daughter of Mrs. Helen Beal of Stevensville. Outside the courtroom, jurors said they did not believe the testimony of Willie Lee Pugh, who was given immunity to testify.

Pugh testified he was with Massenberg during the robbery of the Farmington Hills man but said that Massenberg did the shooting.

Jurors said, however, that Pugh's testimony contained "too many contradictions."

Jones' death following a tennis exhibition at the downtown stadium generated wide publicity concerning security around Olympia. It was subsequently revealed that guards working at the city-owned lot had turned off the lights and left before their scheduled time off. Massenberg was arrested seven days after the slaying at his grandmother's home, across the street from the parking lot where the killing occurred.

City officials say security at the stadium has been beefed up since Jones' death.

More Air Travel On Less Gas

NEW YORK (AP) — America's airlines used less fuel to carry more passengers in 1976, says the Air Transport Association, which reports a passenger increase of 10.4 per cent since 1973 and a fuel consumption decrease of 7.5 per cent during the same period.

Gov. Milliken Will Stress Need For Allegan Prison

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
— LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken will propose on Wednesday that new state prisons be built near Holland and Plymouth, according to administration officials and key lawmakers.

Milliken also is considering the idea of converting Kincheloe.

Air Force Base and a warehouse in Detroit to prisons. But aides said those arrangements have not progressed far enough to lead him to recommend their immediate conversion.

Milliken's message to the legislature Wednesday will stress the need for more prison space. Michigan's prisons now house 13,000 inmates, nearly 2,000 more than capacity. Corrections officials say another 1,000 prisoners probably will be behind bars by the end of the year.

In the past, Milliken has spoken of the need for "four or five" new prisons. But in a preliminary draft of his recommendations distributed to top aides and department heads on Monday, he listed only two sites for immediate conversion to corrections facilities.

They are St. Augustine Seminary in Allegan County, which will be vacant in June, and the former Wayne County Child Development Center near Plymouth, vacant nearly two years.

Residents of both areas have voiced opposition to establishment of the prisons.

Negotiations with the Air Force apparently are stalling progress toward conversion of Kincheloe, the Chippewa County base the Air Force is about to shut down. Consideration of the J.L. Hudson Co. warehouse in downtown Detroit apparently is being held up by political problems, and neither site is included in Milliken's initial proposal.

The legislature will have the final say on any prison location. And the cost — expected to be roughly $10 million this fiscal year — must be met with a

Tapping Alaska's Wealth To Meet Energy Crisis

President Carter's new energy program is bound to sharpen the debate between persons who favor maximum development of the country's fossil fuel reserves and those who oppose such development because of its adverse impact on the environment. Nowhere is the debate more pointed than in Alaska, the nation's main treasurehouse of oil, gas and coal.

After years of litigation by environmentalists, Congress in November 1973 authorized construction of an 800-mile pipeline to carry oil from Alaska's North Slope to the port of Valdez on Prince William Sound. Similar battles are expected over proposals to build a natural-gas pipeline and to develop the state's vast reserves of coal and offshore oil.

Alaska is believed to have at least one trillion tons of coal, or enough to supply the nation for nearly 2,000 years at current rates of consumption. The trouble is that most of the known deposits are in such isolated and barren areas that mining and transportation would be extremely difficult.

The state also has enormous potential oil fields around its vast coastline. In 1971, the Federal Field Committee for Development Planning in Alaska estimated that "offshore potential in Alaska exceeds onshore." However, the panel cautioned, "Most of the offshore regions are located in areas of wild weather or heavy sea ice and will present substantial problems for safe production when oil is found."

Proved reserves of natural gas in Alaska amount to about 26 trillion cubic feet, or about 10 per cent of current U.S. requirements. But total Alaskan reserves are estimated at more than 450 trillion cubic feet — a highly desirable stockpile considering that natural gas is the fossil fuel in shortest supply in the "Lower 48" states.

Development of Alaska's energy resources is further complicated by the unsettled status of land ownership in the states. At the time of statehood in 1959, more than 99 per cent of Alaska's 375 million acres were owned by the federal government. The statehood law gave Alaska title to 103 million acres of its choice — an area roughly equal to all of New England, plus New York and Pennsylvania.

Alaska's native people then began to agitate for land of their own. Congress responded by passing the Alaska Native Claims Act of 1971, which gave 40 million acres to the state's approximately 60,000 Eskimos, Indians and Aleuts. Up to 80 million acres were to be set aside in the national interest, a process which is scheduled for completion by December 1978. In the meantime, the law mandated a temporary freeze on development of federal lands.

Rep. Morris K. Udall (D-Ariz.) has introduced a bill that would designate 114 million acres of Alaska as national parks, wildlife refuges, and wild and scenic rivers. But Gov. Jay S. Hammond, Rep. Don Young and Sen. Ted Stevens, all Alaska Republicans, favor a plan whereby mining, logging and mineral exploration would be permitted on the land scheduled for protection.

The House Subcommittee on General Oversight and Alaska Lands began hearings last week on legislation governing development of Alaskan lands. Once again, the battle between developers and environmentalists is being joined.

LET'S TAKE CARE OF AMERICA FIRST

Editor,

The energy thing that is being kicked around, some of us still wonder if there is a crisis. The price we had to pay was thirty-five cents a gallon and there wasn't any. But when it went to sixty cents and up, there was plenty.

There has been no real effort to conserve our oil and gas. We could have bus lines to take people to work and shopping and etc. All companies could recycle their used oil. We could erect windmills to furnish energy for our homes or build a good battery-operated car. If we could just get on the stick, put our best efforts forward, we could whip the energy situation and at the same time get the utility companies hands out of our pockets.

As with most people these days, we do not drive any more than necessary. People who have boats, jets, and unnecessary things should pay the higher prices for gas.

Mr. Carter has said he would give tax credit for homes and solar systems also include windmill generators. Mr. Carter should hold up on that deal to make all wetbacks and others citizens, for we will need all the work we can get. The American people have and will do the work which these people are doing, for, if the American life style changes so much that cars won't be made and plants do not operate, this work will get done by us, to back with Mexico, Cuba and all the rest of the freeloaders. Let us take care of Americans first.

FIND OUT ABOUT FOUR-WHEELERS

Editor,

I attended last night's meeting (4-19-77) of the Grand Mere association, but was unable to stay for the entire presentation because of prior commitments and as a result, I didn't get to speak my point of view on O.R.V. in Grand Mere.

One point brought up most of the time was not just O.R.V. but four-wheelers. I think it's about time for all the hypocrisy, back-stabbing, and just plain slander toward four-wheelers to stop. I'm not only an O.R.V. fan and backer, but I'm also a four-wheel driver and owner. I work full time at Bendix Hydraulics division, St. Joseph. I am pursuing a law enforcement degree at Lake Michigan college. And, I am also a member in good standing of the Michigan Funrunners 4x4 club in Coloma. Our 4x4 club is also an affiliate member of the Great Lakes 4x4 association. Our club is also affiliated with the Michigan United Conservation club (MUCC).

The few questions I wanted to ask last night, but was unable to, are as follows:

Why, when the Grand Mere association and other organizations of this type are unable to cope with a situation like this, the first thing they want to do is ban it instead of regulating it? Why not make it open to club members only and each vehicle has to have an O.R.V. sticker before entering? Or, why not charge an admission of one or two dollars per vehicle? If this was to happen, the money made could be used for the betterment of Grand Mere for all of us, not just a select few individuals. How many of you who don't own O.R.V. have even been down to Grand Mere? I mean all the way back to the lake and I don't mean by boat either. What gives you people the right to constitute what others should do when instead of trying to find out what four-wheeling is all about, you just sit on your apathy? At least I had the gumption to go and find out what the Grand Mere association is all about. I think it would be very complimentary if the Grand Mere association would do the same.

Having been a resident of Stevensville and Lincoln township for more than 25 years, although I'm not at the present, I can reason with the Grand Mere association's point of view. Why can't the association see the importance of this issue and find out what the organized point of view is behind four-wheeling?

Residents of the city of St. Joseph and the Gard school districts will vote next Monday in special elections on a proposal to annex the Gard district to the city. Because the Gard school district lies partially in St. Joseph township and partially in the north half of the village of Shoreham, special elections will be held in each of these areas. The district contains 1,100 acres of land, lying immediately south of the St. Joseph city limits. Labor Finding Carter Elusive

WASHINGTON — There's more trouble looming between the Carter administration and organized labor, which is rapidly coming to regard the new Democratic president as a wolf in sheep's clothing.

Carter's top economic advisers have reportedly turned thumbs down on legislation long sought by the maritime unions to require that 30 per cent of foreign oil headed for American refineries be shipped on U.S. flag carriers.

This "cargo preference" measure, a cherished goal of the shipping industry as well as maritime labor, was pocket-vetted by President Ford in 1974 after heavy lobbying by the oil companies, which opposed the bill.

In retaliation, the maritime unions poured more than $150,000 into Jimmy Carter's primary campaign last year.

The unions thought they had a firm commitment from Carter to back their cargo preference bill. But they are discovering, as others already have, that what Carter told them and what they thought they heard weren't always the same.

At a series of meetings with Carter during the campaign, maritime union leaders repeatedly emphasized the importance of the cargo preference bill to the merchant marine and to the U.S. shipbuilding industry. The cargo candidate responded with pledges of support for a "national cargo policy" that would assure U.S. ships access to a "fair share" of the maritime trade market.

Although Carter never explicitly endorsed the cargo preference bill itself, White House officials admit that he came pretty close to it and that his campaign promises to the maritime unions are making it awkward to oppose the legislation.

Nonetheless, Carter's economic advisers — like Ford's — are convinced the bill would drive up the cost of imported oil and contribute to inflation at a time when the economy simply can't afford the added pressure.

The House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee has held five days of hearings on the bill over the past couple of months. On each occasion, administration witnesses were asked to testify — and on each occasion, they declined, saying the president needed more time to develop a policy position.

"We haven't reached any agreement within the administration as yet," one White House official told us, adding that an effort is under way to come up with some alternative proposals for strengthening the U.S. merchant marine.

Labor and its supporters on Capitol Hill insist they've already considered every possible alternative and found none that would be as effective as the cargo preference bill.

"So far, our meetings at the White House on the subject have been discouraging — to say the least," said one lobbyist for the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association.

Organized labor has always had trouble persuading Congress to enact legislation that is of benefit primarily to its own members. That's one reason the common site picketing bill so dear to the building trades was defeated this year, and why repeal of 14-B, the right-to-work section of the Taft-Hartley Act, remains a distant dream.

But with Carter in the White House, in part because of labor's massive campaign effort on his behalf, the unions really thought Washington was going to become fat city for them: In what AFL-CIO Secretary-Treasurer Lane Kirkland has called a "triumph of hope over experience," they didn't expect a Democratic president to bite the hand that feeds without the slightest compunction.

Fusion Power Development

The stress in President Jimmy Carter's approach to our energy problem is on conservation, sacrifice, and adjustment to scarcity.

Where petroleum is concerned, this negative approach is probably valid, but it needs to be accompanied by a large positive effort aimed ultimately at harnessing the hydrogen atom.

We are hearing a lot about limits these days, but the supply of hydrogen is virtually unlimited.

It seems quite clear that the solution of the energy problem lies in the development of a fusion reactor able to use hydrogen as its fuel, and makes quite convincing the practical arguments against the fast-breeder and its plutonium product. Though the fast-breeder reactors do "stretch" our uranium resources by reprocessing it, they also produce large quantities of plutonium. This is a deadly poison. It is also the explosive ingredient in an atomic bomb.

Life in a plutonium environment would be dangerous, and — because of the security measures necessary — probably a lot less free than we would like.

An undergraduate at Princeton, by life way, has designed an atomic bomb that could easily be assembled — and, with a lot of plutonium around, the odds are that one or more would be assembled.

The plutonium generated by fast-breeder reactors would also present a large and so far unsolved storage problem.

Politically, however, the Carter decision not to proceed with the plutonium-producing fast-breeder nuclear reactor is creating some heavy weather internationally.

The traditional fission nuclear generator, as distinguished from the fast-breeder, uses uranium as fuel — and the U.S. possesses something like half of the world supply. Energy-poor Europe, in contrast, has little uranium. The U.S. also possesses vast coal reserves — and again Europe has little.

It is not surprising, therefore, that Europe is much more hospitable to the fast-breeder reactor than most knowledgeable people on this side of the Atlantic.

Generation of energy through nuclear technology, however, is only in its Wright brothers stage, and almost certainly the future lies with fusion rather than fission.

Fusion is the process that takes place in the explosion of a hydrogen bomb. Instead of splitting a uranium atom, as in fission, a hydrogen atom fuses to form helium. This is the reaction that takes place on the sun itself.

The hydrogen used for fusion can be obtained from sea water, where it exists in the form of two isotopes, deuterium and tritium. Fuel would therefore be virtually limitless. A fusion reaction also involves a lot less radiation.

The hitch is that we have not learned how to control the fusion reaction.

At the present time, the Federal government spends only a modest $300 million yearly on fusion research. Experts believe, however, that if a much greater investment were made a fusion generator could be a reality by the year 1990. In a fusion reaction, one gallon of sea water yields the energy of many tons of coal.

In nuclear energy, as in other areas of advanced technology, advances require the support of a vigorous nuclear power industry. For that reason, Washington, while pulling back from the fast-breeder reactor, should push steadily ahead with the traditional uranium fission reactor, and should put a much greater effort into the development of fusion power.

Proposed St. Joe Budget Asks Tax Hike

St. Joseph City Manager Gerald W. Hepler last night presented the city commission with a proposed budget for the 1977-78 fiscal year that calls for year the levy was 16.7 mills. If approved by the city commission, it would be the first property tax increase since 1974 when the city's total levy was expected to raise $1,607,771 in property taxes, of which $1,222,812 is for general operations.

for sanitation (trash collection), up .25 mills over last year; .8 mills for the library, same as last year; .5 mills for street resurfacing, same as last year;

City voters last year approved a charter amendment that raises tax limitation by 6.1 mills.

A .5 mill levy for debt retirement ended last year and was not included in this year's total levy.

The city commission is expected to act on the budget following a public hearing Monday, May 9.

According to Hepler, the increased millage is needed to cover operating costs in the next fiscal year which are projected to rise 9.9 per cent over the present year. The city fiscal year begins July 1.

The new budget shows total operating costs of $3,673,821. That is $31,274 over the present budget of $3,342,547.

The new budget provides for a six per cent general salary increase for all city employees.

However, Hepler warned that if employees win more raises than are budgeted, certain cutbacks might have to be made. Both the police and fire contracts are up for review this year.

Also pushing up the budget are increased costs for heat and electricity and a 15 per cent increase in employee health insurance premiums, Hepler said.

The cost of heat and electricity at the water plant next year is estimated at $104,000, an increase of $34,000 over this year. The increase of almost 50 per cent is due to inflation and expanded capacity at the plant.

City hall's heat and electric costs next year are estimated at $13,700, a 14 per cent increase over the $12,000 budgeted this year.

The budget sets aside $35,000 for purchasing a new front-end loader for the street department and $42,500 for a front-end loader and sweeper for the sanitation department.

It calls for replacing four squad cars, the city manager's car and the police chief's car.

An additional $3,350 is budgeted for a fire department food allowance provided, for in a labor contract negotiated last year.

The 1977 levy includes .4 mills to be used for administering the development of the city's proposed office complex district. Ronald Monahan, formerly manager of Ross field, was hired April 15 as director of the project at an annual salary of $48,000.

The total levy of 17.75 mills is expected to raise $1,607,771 in property taxes, of which $1,222,812 is for general operations. Under an amendment to the city charter approved by voters last year, the city can levy up to 22.8 mills total.

The total levy is based on an estimated state equalized valuation (SEV) of $90,578,677 of which $73,393,684 is real property and $16,984,993 is personal property.

Because of the state's new single business tax, the city can no longer collect taxes on $21,863,846 in SEV representing business inventory, Hepler said.

The state is expected to reimburse the city by $388,092 to make up for the loss of inventory taxes, according to the budget.

Total city revenue during the next fiscal year is estimated at $3,304,919. That does not include water department revenues which are estimated at $992,001.

In the water department, $631,345 is to be spent on operations and $360,656 is to be spent on debt retirement.

Federal revenue sharing receipts and expenditures in the 1977-78 fiscal year are estimated at $262,343.

Total expenditures for general government are estimated at $304,450 compared to $230,995 in this year's budget.

Total public safety, which includes police, fire and ambulance, is $920,660 compared to $648,180 this year.

Total public service costs, including library, cemeteries, sewers, street repairs, street lighting, housing code enforcement, and water department operations, are estimated at $1,322,630 compared to $1,159,652 last year.

Total public welfare, including sanitation, parks, forestry, band, airport and city planning, were set at $500,000 compared to $458,887 last year.

Added 1.05 Mills Would Be City's First Increased Levy Since 1974

a property tax increase of 1.05 mills.

The budget recommends a total property tax levy this summer of 17.75 mills. Last increased .2 mills.

The recommended levy includes 13.5 mills for general operations, up .9 mills over last year. Also, it calls for 2.25 mills

4 mills for community development, new this year; and .3 mills for the city band, same as last year.

The total levy of 17.75 mills is

Malkin Seeking Referendum On Pay Commission

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

Benton township Treasurer Ken Malkin said he is circulating a petition calling for a referendum on creation of a compensation commission that would set the pay of elected township officials who are on salary. "The people have a right to vote on it," Malkin said. "I voted against it at the time (March 15 when the compensation commission ordinance was before the township board). I felt we were moving too quickly on it."

Malkin cast the lone vote against the ordinance and five board members voted for it. The ordinance became effective on April 9. Challengers have 60 days from April 9 to submit petitions signed by at least five per cent of the township's registered voters to set up a referendum.

James Ford, assistant township attorney, has said a compensation commission would remove salary-setting powers from citizens at annual meetings. At last month's annual meeting, citizens turned down proposed pay hikes of 40 per cent for the supervisor and 20 per cent each for the clerk and treasurer.

The petition drive is being led by a group called "Concerned Citizens of Benton Township and Taxpayers of Benton Township," who oppose the pay commission.

Malkin said he does not consider himself a formal member of the group but agreed to circulate a petition in the interest of citizens and taxpayers.

"I'm not trying to get a pay raise through the back door and really care less whether it passes. I believe we have more important issues before us,"

KEN MALKIN
Benton Treasurer

Malkin said.

Kenneth Platt, publicity chairman for Concerned Citizens, said petitions must be filed by June 8 to set up a referendum.

Platt said people with petitions not previously mentioned include Oliver Rector, 443 Nickerson avenue; James W. Wirth, 2530 Somerlayton road; Sandra Davis, 1782 Crystal court; and Eldon Smith, 1337 Point O'Woods drive.

BH Awards Colfax Repaving Contract

The Benton Harbor city commission last night voted to award a $34,781 contract to John G. Yerrington company of Benton Harbor to resurface Colfax avenue from Empire avenue south to the city limits.

Money for the repaving and recuring of the approximately one-half mile will come from the city's second-year federal Community Development grant. City Manager Melvin Farmer Jr. said the repaving work on Colfax may start immediately.

Other bids submitted for the Colfax repaving were by Consumers Asphalt and Concrete company, Benton Harbor, for $43,833, and Klett Construction company, Hartford, for $40,464.

In other action, the commission unanimously rejected a request to solicit funds by the California-based Unification church which recently has become involved in court battles over charges of "mind kidnapping."

"It has been our practice not to grant requests to organizations when the funds are not going to benefit any residents of the city," Farmer said. "And there has also been somewhat of a cloud over this particular organization."

Headed by the Rev. Sun Myong Moon, the church is currently involved in court battles in California with parents of five church members, or "Moonies," over parental attempts to have their minds "deprogrammed."

Benton Harbor's rejection of the Unification church's request to solicit funds follows similar rejections by South Haven and Niles city councils.

In other areas, Joseph Christoffel, city finance director, told city commissioners he has sent out letters notifying property owners who have not paid the city for costs of demolishing their substandard dwellings they have 45 days to pay the costs before the city will take them to court to recover the costs.

The action follows a policy set by the commission in March authorizing legal action against property owners who are not paying for demolition costs. Previously, the city had placed the charge for demolishing a house on the owner's property taxes as a special assessment. But city officials reported that procedure was not working because the property owners were not paying the property taxes on their vacant land and were allowing them to revert to the state because of the unpaid property taxes. Land reverts to the state after property taxes are not paid for three years.

A study recently completed by City Assessor-Clerk John Lottridge shows during 1975 and 1976 the city spent $27,437 for costs of demolishing 44 structures. The report said the city was not reimbursed by the property owners.

The commission also approved a contract with Henry Jones, a Benton Harbor contractor, to demolish substandard dwellings at 374 Branson, $800; 320 Paw Paw, $950; 733 East High, $450; 346 Summit, $1,250; 132 North Fair, $1,000, and 132 1/2 North Fair avenue, $500.

A request to transfer a liquor license from the Office Lounge, 205 Territorial road to the Esquire Lounge, 180 Territorial, was approved by the commission. The request for the transfer was made by Walker Benning and John A. Robinson, who own both the Office Lounge and Esquire Lounge buildings, according to Robinson.

Robinson said they plan to move the Office Lounge bar across the street to the Esquire Lounge building. The Esquire, which was operated by Mrs. Valeri Leatz, closed about a month and a half ago, Robinson said. The city commission's approval of the transfer request will be forwarded to the Michigan Liquor Control commission which will make the final decision on the request.

NEW CANDY SHOP: Fannie May Candies recently opened new shop at 2909 Niles avenue, St. Joseph. Standing behind candy counter are store manager Victoria Wacławek, left, and clerk Grace Hale. Shop

St. Joseph Schools' Tax Request Held For Study

St. Joseph city commissioners last night postponed until May 23 a decision on whether the city will collect half the St. Joseph school district tax millage each July along with the city property tax collection.

"There are still a lot of questions to be answered," said Commissioner Joseph Hanley who along with other commissioners agreed to study the proposal for a month.

The commissioners instructed City Manager Gerald Hepler to meet with school district officials and then prepare a recommendation.

Twin Cities Singers Place 3rd

The Fruitbelt chorus of the Twin Cities chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA) placed third in a chorus contest at Midland over the past weekend.

A total of 14 singing groups from Michigan and Ontario took part in the contest. A 100-member group from Grand Rapids took first place in the big city classification and groups from Traverse City and Saginaw Bay took first and second place in the small city classification.

The 31-member Fruitbelt chorus, which took third in the small city classification, is directed by Roger Valentine.

Hoosier Denies BH Roof Repair Charge

An Elkhart, Ind., man pleaded innocent Monday in Berrien District court to a charge that he conducted roof repair work without a state license. Martin P. McDonald, 18, was freed on $2,000 bond following his arraignment yesterday on the misdemeanor charge. According to the warrant, he is charged with repairing the roof of a house at 385 John street, Benton Harbor, without being licensed by the state to act as a residential maintenance or alteration contractor. McDonald asked for a jury trial. The violation is alleged to have occurred April 18. He was arrested by Benton Harbor police Saturday after complaints were filed, police said. Police originally booked him on investigation of obtaining money under false pretenses, but those charges were not authorized by the prosecutor's office.

He was told to determine how the proposal would affect homeowners who save for their property tax payments in escrow accounts.

Hepler said the proposal would be "almost impossible" to put into effect this year.

He said the computer that turns out tax bills would have to be changed and new tax bill forms would have to be printed. "It would be very difficult to put all that together this year," Hepler said.

The school board has asked for the partial summer collection in St. Joseph city as a way of easing what school officials have described as a "cash flow problem."

At present, city residents pay all school and county taxes in December.

Dennis Percy, the school district's business manager, told commissioners last night the summer collection would result in an estimated savings of about $30,000 each year in interest on borrowed money.

He said that at present, the school district must borrow about $2.6 million in the fall to carry it through the winter until it receives its property tax collection.

If half the millage were collected in the summer, the school district would receive about $1.4 million in the fall and would only have to borrow about $1.2 million, he said. The school district will pay about $70,000 in interest on borrowed money this year, he said.

Percy said the school district would be satisfied if the proposal were not put into effect until 1978. He said board members were willing to wait for a year as it would allow city residents time to "gear up" for the change.

Patrick Phelan, city clerk-treasurer, said that if the city levies its proposed 17.75 mills and the school district adds 17.808 mills (half of its 1976 levy of 35.616 mills) to that amount, the total summer levy would be 35.558 mills.

He said said some property owners may not have enough money accrued in their escrow accounts to meet the higher summer taxes.

In other areas last night, the commission voted approval for the St. Joseph Downtown Development Authority to borrow $10,000 from the People State Bank, St. Joseph, for operating funds. The money is to be repaid when the authority receives funds from a two-mill special property tax to be levied on the downtown area this summer. The levy is expected to raise about $11,000.

The commission approved two direct grants of federal community development money to homeowners for renovations needed to bring their residences up to city code standards.

A grant of $1,555 was approved for Annabelle Knuth, 804 Hoyt street, for a new roof and rewiring. A grant of $974 was approved for Marie Griesse, 1614 Bernice avenue, for a new roof and gutters and downspouts.

Hepler said there is $2,523 left in the fund for renovation grants. He said that with the two grants approved last night a total of $29,770 has been spent on the program during the past two years for 18 direct grants and two low-interest loans.

The commission approved the re-appointment of 23 members of city boards and advisory commissions whose terms of office expire in May. William Grimes was appointed to the

Bodies Found

MUSKOGON, Mich. (AP) — The bodies of two men who drowned while fishing Feb. 23 were found Monday on the shore of Lake Michigan. Ottawa County Sheriff's deputies said.

The men were identified through dental records as Gary Brinkert, 36, of Allendale, and Stanley Siedlecki, 59, of Comstock Park, deputies said.

Woman Injured In Bridgman Collision

A 44-year-old Bridgman woman was listed in "serious" condition this morning at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph, after a two-car accident Monday in Bridgman. Berrien county sheriff's deputies said Annalise E. Linke was injured when the car she was driving collided with an auto driven by Elkon S. Baldwin, 53, of Harbert. Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred on Red Arrow highway at Willard street about 3:30 p.m. Baldwin was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way, sheriff's deputies said.

Recognition Night

Thirty-two homemakers in Berrien County received certificates of recognition April 23 for completion of nutrition instruction at the third annual Berrien County Expanded Nutrition program recognition program held at Second Baptist church, Benton Harbor.

The Expanded Nutrition program is funded by the United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with Michigan State University and Berrien County to improve eating habits of families enrolled through nutrition education.

Nutrition aides teach homemakers in group sessions and on a one-to-one basis about well balanced diets and how to prepare them. The aides also instruct homemakers on how to plan, purchase, and store food for their families.

Thirteen community organizations and agencies were also awarded citations for the cooperation spirit and support given to the Expanded Nutrition program.

These are Dorie Miller American Legion Post No. 410, Benton Harbor Police Department, Benton Township Blossomacres Housing Commission, Church women of Chapel Hill United Methodist church, Sodas, Fairplain Presbyterian church, Benton Harbor, Fairplain United Presbyterian Women's association, First Presbyterian church of Niles, Michiana News Service, Inc., Sears, Roebuck and company, Second Baptist church, Shango's Gallery and Benton Harbor chapter of Squaws, Inc.

The Expanded Nutrition program is administered through the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University and has been in operation in Berrien County since March of 1969.

Those receiving certificates of

Also, Viree Hall, Ethel Harris, Frances Helms, Ida Hulton, Mary Horn, Fredella Horton, Johnnie Howard, Alice Jones, Easter Jude, Elizabeth Lewis, Rosemary Lowe.

And, Jean Marshall, Mary Mason, Laurel Massengale, Evelyn McVinch, Mary Patterson, Rosie Reid, Vera Walker, Fanny Warren, Barbara Windmon and Carol Workmen.

Also receiving honors at the recognition night were 54 individuals who have volunteered their time to the program over the past years.

Volunteers receiving awards were Mary Allen, Rosetta Alkinson, Darlene Blevins, Annie Blue, Ollie Brown, Vira Buchanan, Mozella Carlton, Annie Clay, Betty Cole, Sandra Davis, Renee Dowdy.

Also, Virginia Edwards, Willie B. Edwards, Mamie Ellison, Carol Evans, Sue Fitch, the Rev. Nathaniel Gathright, Webb Griffith Jr., Art Lou Guldry, Roxie Howard, Mamie Hudson, Addie Jenkins.

FELLOWSHIP BREAKFAST CWU Event May 6

May Fellowship Breakfast, sponsored by Church Women United of the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph area, will be held Friday, May 6, at 9 a.m. at Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, St. Joseph.

Theme of this year's breakfast will be "Gifts to Claim."

Assisting church will be Chapel Hill United Methodist church, Sodas.

Tickets for the breakfast are $1.25, according to Miss Lucy Mayer and Mrs. Stanley (Mary) Goodell, ticket chairmen. A nursery will be provided.

Participating in the program will be Mrs. Thomas (Erma) Keizer, Mrs. Lloyd (Juanita) Phillips, Mrs. Belle Roberts, Mrs. Carlos (Mildred) Page, Mrs. Alden (Margie) Meschke and Mrs. Kenneth (Mary Lou) Ogdenorth.

During the breakfast, Mrs. Earl (Edna) Herrick will dedicate "The Fellowship of the Least Coin" from all area churches.

SERV items, self-help handcrafts from around the world, will be available before and after the breakfast.

Chairman for the May Fellowship Breakfast is Mrs. Lawrence (Mary Joyce) Grover.

Members of the planning committee include Miss Mayer, Mrs. George (Edna) Flemming, Mrs. Meschke, Mrs. Curtis (Beth) Runkel, Mrs. Goodell, Mrs. Ray (Maxine) Whitcomb and Mrs. Herrick.

Since the first May Fellowship Day in 1933, it has been traditional for church women to come together on the first Friday in May to emphasize the creative and healing relations that are possible among people in the 2,000 communities where Church Women United is organized in local units.

In local units of Church Women United, women will explore ways of relating to other human beings in new ways, finding that the church, the neighborhood, the town or the international community have greater possibilities for relationships which increase the ability to reflect God's will on earth. These explorations will emphasize awareness of underlying values and choices.

The emphasis on values clarification will prepare the women for fuller participation in the CWU Ecumenical Assembly to be held July 7-10 at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind.

At the triennial assembly, the deeper and fuller dimensions of women and their faith will be explored through the theme, "Signatures of Faith."

Acquire Tiffany Window

CORNING, N.Y. (AP) — The Corning Museum of Glass has acquired a leaded glass window made by the Tiffany Studios, America's famous producer of art nouveau glass.

The window, made in 1905 for the home of Melchor S. Beltrando at Irvington-in-the-Hudson, is one of the most impressive ever produced by Tiffany, according to Dave P. Donaldson, assistant curator of 20th-century glass at the museum.

Louis Tiffany personally supervised the design, assembly and installation of the window. It is now on permanent display at the Corning Museum.

TAKE THE WHOLE PRESCRIPTION

Don't stop taking a prescription drug after you begin to feel better unless your physician approves. This is most important. Often anything less than the full course of treatment may prevent the medicine from completely correcting the condition.

For example, not taking the prescribed amount of an antibiotic allows either the "bug" or your body to become resistant to it. Not enough of the required medicine may be worse than none at all.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Young Organists Find Joy In Sharing Music

CHICAGO (AP) — America's musical teenagers can be found in places other than marching in a band or plugged into a rock guitar.

More and more of them are discovering a special set of "keyboards" — the electronic organ — and are forming clubs to share their enthusiasm with others.

Today, nearly 100 organ clubs with from 20 to 90 members are thriving around the country under the auspices of the Young Organists association. The association gives interested teens an opportunity to sharpen their musical skills and to have fun while doing it, says Bill Worrall, who founded YOA in 1973.

"Being part of a club helps keep the kids on their toes musically," said Worrall. "Associating with peers who are good musicians is highly motivating and can help stimulate a general interest in music. In addition, members learn poise and stage presence, since all of the chapters have public performance groups."

Joe Tripoli, 15, immediate past president of the Burbank, Calif., chapter, would like to play the organ professionally some day, and agrees that his YOA experiences will help him reach that goal.

"It gets you used to performing," he said, "and helps teach you how to handle yourself in front of people. The really great thing about YOA, though, is the opportunity to meet kids your own age. Playing might get discouraging if it weren't for that incentive to continue."

Joe began taking organ lessons at the age of six, and later studied both guitar and drums. Of his experiences drumming in a school band, he said, "I enjoy being part of a group, but I prefer the opportunity to solo on the organ. The organ is the most versatile instrument I can think of. It has a wide variety of registrations and really allows you to create your own things."

The versatility of the organ plays a large part in its appeal to young people, according to the National Association of Electronic Organ Manufacturers. Much of the credit goes to Space Age technology which enables the home organ to produce many of the sounds popular in rock and jazz music. NAEOM statistics show that the median age of organ players in the United States is decreasing sharply. "It's 30 today, compared with 45 ten years ago."

But not all of today's "organized" teens play rock. Award-winning classical organist Greg Mackintosh, 15, calls the electronic organ "the most expressive instrument I know. There's a lot of music you can get out of an organ."

Greg, who is the president of a newly formed YOA chapter in his home town of Morton Grove, Ill., started playing at age six on an organ that was a Christmas present for his mother. He has been taking once-a-week lessons from a private instructor ever since.

As a result of his success with the organ, Greg has branched out to other musical instruments. He began taking piano lessons two years ago, and plays the trumpet in his high school concert and marching bands. He's thinking about music as a career.

No longer a YOA member, but still involved, is 21-year-old San Diego organ teacher Leslie Wolf. Leslie became too old for the association last year, but continues as chapter advisor. She has 10 of her own students in the club.

Activities of the San Diego club are typical of chapters across the country. At the monthly meetings, members experiment with unfamiliar instruments, in keeping with the YOA motto, "If it has keys, it can be played and enjoyed."

Often, the meetings are workshops with teachers and professional organists giving demonstrations. Club members give concerts at places such as shopping malls, and homes for senior citizens. Last year they gave two benefit performances to help raise money for retarded children and to help a local choir raise money for robes.

One of the most active YOA clubs in the country is the 23-member chapter in Grand Rapids, Mich. During 1976, club members gave free performances for 80 senior citizens' homes in southwestern Michigan, and were featured on area television and radio shows. Through garage sales and potluck suppers, they raised $6,000 to finance a concert tour of the West Coast, highlighted by side trips to play on outstanding theater pipe organs in various communities.

April Showers Bring Spring Complexions

Take advantage of the April showers and give yourself a new spring complexion.

Gather that gentle, soft water in big jars and use it for your special natural face wash. It's minus those chemicals that are found in your tap water.

Maybe you have noticed that April showers seem to improve your complexion. That is because your skin may have been able to attract some of the moisture in the air, but a surer way is to apply it directly to your skin.

Let those April showers that make plants dewy help do the same for your skin.

A lathering of pure baby soap and then rinsing with the soft rain water will give you shiny clean skin. Baby soap gently cleanses, rinses away easily, and leaves your skin soft and smooth, without a dry feeling.

Finish the spring skin cleaning with a baby lotion polishing, while your skin is still damp, to add a silky glow and help protect the skin from loss of its natural moisture. Gently massage the creamy baby lotion all over your face and neck for the best softening treatment around.

Pure and gentle — rain water, baby soap and baby lotion — is the Rx for moving your winter-weary skin into a natural spring freshness.

Beef Ideas For Summer

Keep interest high throughout the cookout season with a variety of beef entrees. In addition to the familiar tender steaks and burgers, less tender cuts can also be used.

These can be braised on the grill when wrapped securely in heavy duty aluminum foil or cooked in a small amount of liquid in a covered pan. Some less tender cuts can be broiled after marinating.

Marriage Encounter Plans Spring Dance

Marriage Encounter of Michiana will hold its fifth annual dance, "Spring Frolic," Saturday, April 30, in Christ the King church basement, 52473 US-31, South Bend, Ind.

All couples who have made a Marriage Encounter and their friends are invited. Social hour will be at 8 p.m., with dancing from 9 p.m. to midnight to the Jim DeKa Trio. Tickets are $7 per couple and will be available at the door. Proceeds will be used to meet expenses incurred by the operation of Marriage Encounter.

Marriage Encounter is a weekend experience designed to give married couples the opportunity to examine their lives together and to do so openly and honestly in a Christ-like, face-to-face, heart-to-heart encounter with the one person they have chosen to live with for the rest of their life, according to Encounter spokesmen.

The emphasis of the Marriage Encounter is on communication between husband and wife, who spend a weekend together, away from the distractions and the tensions of everyday life, to concentrate on talking deeply with each other.

Marriage Encounter is for couples who have a good marriage, but would like to make it even better. Weekends are held at Fatima Retreat House on the University of Notre Dame campus.

Those wishing further information about the dance or Marriage Encounter may contact Mr. and Mrs. Ron Stark, 53101 Crestview drive, South Bend, Ind., 46635.

ATTENTION! Future Brides

Brides-to-be planning engagement announcements and wedding stories in this newspaper are asked to observe the following rules:

Engagement and wedding forms are available in the women's department at The Herald-Palladium offices in Benton Harbor or St. Joseph. The pertinent information should be typed or plainly printed in filling out these forms to prevent errors.

Wedding forms should be picked up at least two weeks before the wedding is to take place.

When wedding information is sent within two months of the engagement announcement date, only ONE picture will be run. The bride-to-be may have her choice.

Use proper names — not nicknames. In wedding information, use husband's names for married attendants.

Only pictures of the bride in her wedding dress will be used. Formal glossy black and white portraits are preferred.

Engagement and wedding pictures are usually available at this newspaper office after publication for a short time.

Honor May Bride

NEW BUFFALO — Miss Shannon Flemming, who will be married to Danny Bell, on May 15, was guest of honor recently at two bridal showers.

A shower, hosted by women of St. John United Church of Christ, New Buffalo, was held April 17 in the Frohne Memorial hall of the church.

Mrs. Steven Gutschow, Grand Rapids, was hostess at a party honoring Miss Flemming at the James McDougall home, New Buffalo, April 16.

Miss Flemming is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flemming and Bell son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bell, both of New Buffalo.

Member Of Ferris Choir

Jami DaDan of St. Joseph is a member of Ferris State college's Concert Choir which will sing concerts at five Michigan high schools during its annual spring tour Wednesday and Thursday, April 27 and 28.

Miss DaDan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gino DaDan, 1408 Wolcott, St. Joseph.

The choir, under the direction of William Donahue, will perform at East Kentwood, Coopersville and Creston high schools on Wednesday, and at Allegan and Grand Haven high schools on Thursday.

The choir will present a variety of choral music ranging from the 17th century composition "Exultate Deo" by Alessandro Scarlatti to the Barry Manilow "I Write the Songs."

Prune Sweet Baked Beans

Whichever style of baked beans is your family's favorite, they'll love this full-flavored variation.

Stir one-half cup of snipped sun-dried pitted prunes into four servings of baked beans. Cook or bake for 10 minutes until warmed through.

Especially delicious served with broiled chicken.

35th Annual Drive
Kickoff Is May 2

Community Concerts Association of Southwest Michigan will kick off its 35th annual drive for new members for the 1976-77 season at a dinner Monday, May 2.

The dinner for volunteer workers, board of directors and Community Concerts representative will be held at the Holiday Inn, St. Joseph. The event will begin with a get together at 6 p.m., followed by the dinner at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Willis (Barbara) Hall is chairman.

Membership in the association entitles members to attend the five concerts to be presented here next season as well as concerts presented in Holland and in LaPorte and Michigan City, Ind.

New memberships will be sold only during the week of May 2-6.

Those wishing to obtain memberships may contact association members who will maintain an office at the Holiday Inn, St. Joseph, for the week. A special telephone will be installed for the week and interested persons may call 963-3240. The office will be maintained from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day during the week, except Wednesday, when the office will be open to 6:30 p.m.

Membership fees for next season are $12 for adults and $6 for students. No memberships are sold during the concert season.

Five concerts are planned for the 1976-77 season and will be presented by Lili Kraus, pianist specializing in Mozart works; Robert DeCormier and the DeCormier Singers; Music from Marlboro, a chamber music ensemble; C.C. Ryder, troubador and folk singer, and the Czechoslovakian Folk Ballet.

The scheduling of a fifth, bonus, concert is possible for the 1976-77 season due to the successful 1976-77 season, according to Mrs. Robert (Dee) Sykora, president of the association.

In addition to the five locally scheduled concerts, reciprocity agreements with Holland and LaPorte and Michigan City, Ind., entitles members to a total of 19 concerts.

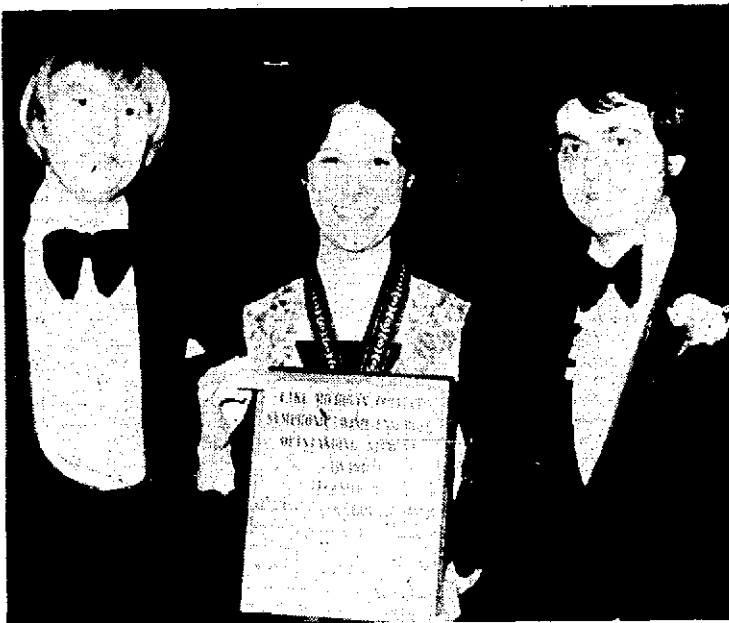

Concerts scheduled at Holland for next season are Detroit Symphony, Dave Brubeck, Music for Awhile (Renaissance Instruments and Voices), William Parker, baritone, Don Redlick Dance company and Chilingirian String Quartet.

Concerts scheduled at LaPorte are New DeCormier Singers, Orpheus Trio, Canadian Opera company with Barber of Seville in English and Jeffrey II Ballet company.

Concerts scheduled at Michigan City are Frances and Michael Zamanis, duopians, Tamburizan's Folk Ensemble of Dequesne university, Les Brown and his band and Yehuda Hanani, cellist.

The Community Concert plan brings a distinguished and exciting series to nearly 800 cities in the United States and Canada.

Awards Made At LMC Concert

PRESENTATIONS: Two special plaque presentations were made April 22 by the Lake Michigan college Symphonic Wind Ensemble. From left, are Doug Henkelman who received the award recognizing him as the outstanding graduating sophomore male member of the ensemble; Lee Wennerberg, outstanding graduating sophomore female member of the orchestra; Dr. Don Moely, professor and head of the LMC music department, who conducted the April 22 concert; Pat McTague, ensemble member who with Henkelman presented the special recognition award to Arnold Lesser, right, Lakeshore high school conductor. Lesser was guest conductor for "First Suite For Band" by Alfred Reed. A highlight of the evening's program was the significant work by Norman Dello Joie, "Scenes From The Louvre." Linked to the growth and development through the years of France's famous art museum, the work consists of five movements covering the period of the museum's existence during the Renaissance. In each movement, musical themes are used from famous composers of that period. Both Lesser and the ensemble were accorded standing ovations by the enthusiastic overflow audience.

'The Sunshine Boys'
Casting Complete

Casting for "The Sunshine Boys," Twin City Players' final production of the season, has been completed, according to Lee Maickel, director. The Neil Simon comedy will be presented Thursday through Saturday, May 12-14, and Friday and Saturday, May 20-21, in the Blue Lecture Hall at Lake Michigan college, at 8 p.m. There will be no reserved seats.

Playing the lead characters will be Joe Bartz as Willie Clark, and Dave Abbey as Al Lewis, an ex-vaudeville team that performed successfully together for 43 years. Their off-stage habits finally cause the team to split. The play's humor evolves around their reunion.

Bartz was last seen as Merlin in "Camelot," and Abbey as the nice executive in last season's "Solid Gold Cadillac."

Two newcomers to TCP, Steve Miller and Steve Jewel, will play the parts of the nephew, Ben Silverman, and a young man named Eddie, respectively.

Carol Oudbier and Shawne F. Cryderman will play the roles of nurses, and Fred Eaton, who has helped construct many sets for the Players, will appear front stage as the patient.

New Catalog
Is Published

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A catalog telling of the history and development of European master drawings from the 14th to the close of the 18th century has been published by the Los Angeles County Museum of Art. The 238-page book was written by Eberia Feinblatt, the museum's senior curator of prints and drawings.

INFORMAL AND RELAXED: The April 22 concert presented by the Lake Michigan college Symphonic Wind Ensemble at the St. Joseph Kickers club, Arden, was informal and relaxed. The capacity audience heard the music while seated at tables and with refreshments available in the style made famous by Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops orchestra. The sixth annual spring concert presented music representing some of the lighter music which is being prepared by the ensemble, jazz band, swing choir, and the brass ensemble for the cultural exchange tour to Europe this summer. Popular music included songs from "Fiddler On the Roof," "The Hustle," and "Feelings." Performing in special units were the French horn, sax, trombone, and clarinet quartets, and the faculty brass quintet. A large segment of the audience remained after the concert to hear the LMC Jazz band. (Staff photos)

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Teachers Need Backing

Dear Ann: The letter about the rotten behavior of school kids got to me.

The main problem is the gutless behavior of the administrators. Last year, a teacher reprimanded an upper-grade boy for juggling across the tops of the cafeteria tables. The child's mother phoned the school and complained to the principal for allowing the teacher to embarrass her son before his peers. The principal should have defended the teacher but instead she was roundly criticized.

The mother then called the teacher at home that evening and chewed her out. This is just one of many examples I could

Dr. Lester Coleman

I get hunger pains in the middle of the day. Does this mean that I have an ulcer? — Mr. T.Y., Mina.

Dear Mr. Y.: Occasional hunger pains, even those that are relieved by food, do not necessarily mean that you have a stomach ulcer. Hunger pains, in most instances, are due to the fact that the stomach is empty. With nothing in the stomach, the muscles have nothing to contract down on. It is for this reason that most hunger pains are relieved by eating something.

Doctors do consider the periodic "cyclic" hunger pains as a possible indication of a peptic ulcer of the stomach or the small intestine (duodenum). The fact that eating relieves hunger pains is very significant as a diagnostic sign. When such a history is given to a doctor, he follows through with X-ray studies of the stomach and intestines. This, of course, is the positive way to determine if someone has an ulcer.

It has always been said that the stomach is a very sympathetic neighbor. Problems in the gall bladder or in the pancreas may reflect themselves with vague gnawing sensations.

Repeated bouts of hunger pains should not be neglected.

Can syphilis occur in the elderly as well as in the young? — Mrs. D.W., N.C.

Dear Mrs. W.: When direct contact is made with a person who is infected with syphilis the germ can infect anyone. There is no sex, no age, no social or economic level and no race that can be considered immune to syphilis.

Despite all educational cam-paigus, syphilis still remains one of the great plagues of mankind. Present-day sexual promiscuity is responsible for the fact that syphilis now exists in epidemic and pandemic (everywhere) proportions.

Unfortunately, many irresponsible people fail to bring a venereal infection to the attention of their doctor. Young people, especially, are fearful of parental reactions, and hide this serious problem.

Even more unfortunate is the fact that the initial sore, or "chancre," of the genitals and the mouth, may disappear after a few days, even without treatment. The consequent result is that many of those who have been exposed to syphilis and might have been cured by early treatment forget about it, only to come to a later realization that the disease did NOT disappear.

Secondary complications of syphilis are serious and can be very destructive.

Public Tomorrow Concert

DOWAGIAC — A public concert by Southwestern Michigan college's chorus will be held Wednesday, April 27, at 1 p.m. in room 301 of the O'Leary building.

No admission will be charged for the program which will include "The Cricker," "Time in a Bottle," and "Bourree."

David Purcell, Niles, will conduct the chorus.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Mary Zita Jacoby never has become a really expert player, but her 1,500 master points are mostly of the red variety since she usually played in major events with some of the family.

She sat South today, while Oswald held the North cards. His bidding can best be described as typical husband-wife slam bidding. For all he knew, when he settled for six spades the combined hands might produce seven spades or seven notrump, but he decided to settle for the small slam.

Mrs. Jacoby was unhappy with the dummy. She could only count to 11 tricks. Of course, 12

But Out-Numbered

Dear Miss Landers: This is in response to the barrage of letters you received regarding the negativism of students in our schools. Since I have never been in their buildings, I am no judge of what goes on elsewhere, but I can speak for the school of which I am the principal.

The students in our school are not angels, but they are courteous, respectful both of people and property, eager to learn, and a pleasure to be with. I like to feel that the reasons behind those positive characteristics can be traced to the parents, religious affiliations and the teachers. If the adult society shows respect and love toward our students, we find they reciprocate.

I realize there is much information one must have before making a judgment, but I'd be interested in finding out what

Agent Recommends: 'Boil Canned Foods'

The recent outbreak of botulism in the Pontiac area has resulted in many calls and questions about the safety of local area consumer's home processed products, reports Maryann Beckman, District Extension Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

Mrs. Beckman says:

If your products were properly processed to begin with last year and if lids are still tightly sealed, you probably have no problems. Proper processing means using a pressure canner to process all meat, fish and vegetables and at the times and temperatures recommended by the USDA, Ball, Kerr and other reliable sources. All fruits, tomatoes and pickles must be processed in a boiling water bath canner.

The pressure canner must be in perfect working order and canning recommendations must be followed exactly to avoid any risk of botulism. As you know, botulism is the most deadly of all food poisonings and is very often fatal. Fortunately, in the recent cases, the illnesses developed were diagnosed quickly enough to prevent most fatalities, but that usually is not the case.

One reason botulism is difficult to diagnose is because clostridium botulinum and the toxin it produces can be present in food that shows no sign of spoilage. You can't see it, taste it, smell it or see visible signs of changes in quality or appearance, generally. On a few occasions there may be some foul odors resulting from putrefaction (especially in meats and legumes) and there may be excessive gas production that causes lids to bulge. But mostly, you may never know it's there.

How do you take precautions with your already processed products? Boil them! Boil all home canned (as well as commercially canned) vegetables for at least 10 minutes before tasting. Spinach, corn and meats need to be boiled 20 minutes before tasting. Boiling destroys botulinum toxins. Even if you feel absolutely sure of your own pressure canner, gauge and preservation methods, it's smart to boil first.

Many consumers have been asking if they need to boil vegetables they intend to use in cold salads, such as a three-bean salad, etc., and the answer is Yes. Boil the products first for 10 or more minutes, then cool, chill and when cold, then combine with the other ingredients.

As you plan and start planting your gardens now, plan too, to buy a pressure canner if you want to home preserve (unless you freeze all vegetables). Start now to check the pressure

Fremont Uneasy In Gerber Fight

FREMONT, Mich. (AP) — Residents of this tiny Western Michigan city fear they may become casualties of a corporate war between two giant businesses doing battle in courtrooms and the stock market.

Fremont, population 3,500, is home and headquarters for Gerber Products Co., the nation's biggest baby food maker. Gerber is battling a takeover bid from Anderson, Clayton & Co., a Houston-based food processor ranked as the nation's 265th largest corporation by Fortune Magazine.

Gerber is no corporate pigmy either. Fortune lists it as the nation's 48th largest firm. The takeover bid involves buying all Gerber's 8.1 million stock shares for almost $340 million.

Gerber filed a federal court challenge Monday trying to prevent the takeover on federal antitrust grounds and by claiming violations of stock exchange regulations.

Gerber's roots in Fremont run deep. The city's mayor, one councilman, the school board president and two of its trustees, plus the volunteer fire chief, all are Gerber workers.

Gerber pays over half the city's property taxes, one quarter of the taxes supporting the Fremont school district, and 10 per cent of Newaygo County's property taxes.

The firm employs over 1,000 area residents — nearly 10 per cent of the county's work force. Gerber's $14 million annual payroll is by far the area's largest.

In addition, hundreds of other jobs depend on Gerber. They range from local farmers, who sell millions of dollars worth of crops to its Fremont production plant, to the Main Street merchants who depend on Gerber employees' purchases to stay in business.

"If it were not for Gerber, there would not be much of a Fremont," said John Whitlock, Gerber's public relations director.

"We try very hard not to be a company town, but it's impossible when you talk about a corporation of this size in a town of 3,500. We work at trying not to control the city council and school board, but when the town needs a prepayment of taxes to pave the streets, they know where to find the money," Whitlock added.

Anderson, Clayton & Co. assured Gerber its takeover bid includes no plans to move

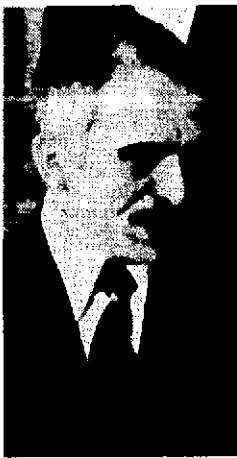

Fight Stirs Re-Issue Of Two Books

NEW YORK (AP) — Publicity over Alex Haley's novel "Roots" has prompted Bantam Books to plan redistribution of two books caught up in publicity related to "Roots."

The books are "Jubilee," by Margaret Walker, first published in 1967, and "The African," by Harold Courlander, which first appeared under the Bantam label in 1969.

Miss Walker has filed a suit against Haley alleging copyright infringement, charging parts of her work had been copied in "Roots."

Courlander has claimed a number of similarities in theme, structure, plot, language and incident between "Roots" and his book, the story of an African brought to this country as a slave. Its original printing was 200,000 copies.

KING HUSSEIN
'More Hopeful'

King Hussein Now Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jordan's King Hussein, entering his second day of talks with President Carter, says his habitual caution in assessing Middle East peace prospects is giving way to new optimism.

Carter and Hussein met for the first time Monday for talks about the role of the Palestinian Liberation Organization in any new peace efforts in the Middle East. They agreed to the need for a new Geneva peace conference this year.

At Monday's welcoming ceremony, Carter warned against underestimating the divisions in the Middle East. But after the first round of talks, Hussein said at a White House working dinner:

"Despite a feeling that I have had, which has caused me to be cautious with regard to the possibilities of real, genuine progress towards a solution in the Middle East, I have as a result of meeting with you ... felt more encouraged and more hopeful than I have for a very long time."

For his part, Carter told the king that "1977 can be a propitious year for greater strides toward permanent peace in the Middle East."

However, the President said "we recognize the difficulty of resolving the historic animosities" there. He warned that if progress is not made this year "it may be a long time in the future before we can mount such an effort again."

Hussein pledged to dedicate himself "in what remains of life to achieve a just and lasting peace." Carter lauded him as courageous and unselfish and declared, "He's our friend."

During their opening talks, Carter and Hussein discussed possible ways of admitting the Palestinians to Arab-Israeli negotiations.

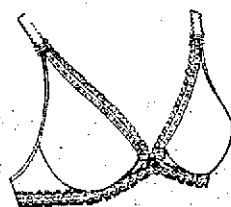

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said the United States opposes any immediate rule for the PLO so long as it does not recognize Israel's "right to exist in peace."

However, Powell said possible approaches to Palestinian representation could include some form of confederation or other link with Jordan, placing Palestinians in a Jordanian delegation, or having a single, comprehensive Arab delegation at peace talks.

A White House press notice said the two leaders also talked about territorial boundaries and the nature of the peace they would like to achieve. The notice said Carter believes Jordan "has a positive role to play" in any Middle East settlement.

Foes Delay Bill On Handicapped

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — It's not that lawmakers are insensitive to the needs of the handicapped, it's just that they're sensitive to the needs of the taxpayers. And most taxpayers have no trouble getting on a bus.

That was the rationale of state lawmakers who spoke out Monday night against efforts to make new city buses accessible to people in wheelchairs.

They delayed action on the proposal in the state House until at least today, and the measure appeared in trouble.

Legislators argued that the cost — estimated at $7,500 to $9,000 more per bus — isn't worth it to help out a relatively small number of people.

State Rep. John Maynard, D-St. Clair Shores, suggested the state has gone too far to accommodate the handicapped. He said he gets irritated when he can't find a place to park in a parking lot but sees special parking spots for the handicapped going unused.

"All the compensation in the world is not going to make everyone equal," Maynard told his colleagues.

Unlike the civil rights battles of the late 1950s when blacks had to ride on the back of the bus, "We're talking about people who don't get on the bus to begin with," he reasoned.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Jelt Sietsma, D-Grand Rapids, would prohibit purchase of transit vehicles with general transportation fund money unless the vehicles have a lift system to get handicapped people, including those in wheelchairs, aboard.

The measure would repeal a moratorium on purchase of any buses with money from the fund. The moratorium, part of the 1976 General Transportation Fund Act, says no transit vehicles can be bought until access is assured for the handicapped.

Several lawmakers urged expansion of local "dial-a-ride" programs instead to get the handicapped where they need to go.

In other action Monday, the House voted to tell taxpayers slaving over their state income tax forms where their money will probably go.

A bill sponsored by Rep. Gilbert DiNello, D-East Detroit, would require that the income tax instruction booklet include a summary of the most recent state revenues and expenditures.

The bill itself, if enacted, would add about $50,000 to the current $500,000-a-year cost of printing the instruction booklets, according to the Department of Management and Budget.

Study Bolsters PBB-Illness Tie

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A recent study of Wisconsin dairy farmers supports earlier findings indicating that PBB has caused health problems among dairy farmers in Michigan, a state official says.

The study, conducted by a New York medical team, showed that Wisconsin dairy farmers had generally fewer health problems than their counterparts in Michigan who had been exposed to the toxic fire retardant chemical.

Final results of the study are not complete, and health officials caution there still is no proof linking PBB to health problems. But Michigan Health Director Maurice Reizen said Monday he now believes that at least some ailments among Michigan farmers are caused by PBB.

The Wisconsin study was conducted by a team headed by Dr. Irving Selikoff of the Mount Sinai School of Medicine's Environmental Sciences Laboratory. Late last year, Selikoff's team studied 1,029 Michigan residents who were exposed to PBB (polybrominated biphenyl), which was accidentally mixed with Michigan livestock feed in 1973.

In January, Selikoff said he was convinced that PBB contamination causes ill health in some people. PBB is suspected of causing ailments ranging from nervous system disorders to muscle and skeletal changes and gastro-intestinal problems.

But critics of Selikoff's study said it failed to include a PBB-free "control" group to compare with the PBB-affected farmers, and thus could not pin the ailments to the fire retardant.

Selikoff said he studied 250 dairy farmers and their family members in the area of Marshfield, Wis., in March. The aim of the study was to determine whether all dairy farmers showed similar ailments, or whether the health problems were unique to Michigan.

"In Michigan we had examined dairy farmers but had no way of knowing if what we observed was true in general about dairy farmers, or if Michigan might be different," Selikoff said.

He said analysis of the results is still underway, and declined to discuss them.

But Reizen said he had received preliminary findings on tests of some 50 farmers in a conversation with Selikoff, although he had "no paper on this" or any statistical information.

Selikoff, he said, reported that Wisconsin farmers in general had a better ability to combat infections than their Michigan counterparts, and had fewer adverse health symptoms than reported in Michigan. The Wisconsin group complained less often of problems such as memory loss, loss of balance, arthritis, lethargy and other

Mother Guilty Of Child Abuse

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP) — The parents of a girl, whose mother said was conceived in a rape, have been convicted of keeping the child in a tiny, dark cubicle for much of her 8 years. "Every time I looked at her, I saw the face of that man (who raped me)," Linda Faye Burchfield, 31, testified during the week-long trial.

ailments than did Michigan farmers.

Reizen said the results do not prove PBB caused health ailments in Michigan. "But there is no question in either of our minds that there is a difference between Wisconsin dairy farmers and Michigan dairy farmers," he said.

He said he believes at least some health problems are caused by PBB, and scientists should devote themselves to helping afflicted farmers treat the ailments, and to devising methods of "flushing" PBB from the body.

CHICAGO (AP) — For most Americans, electric cars for everyday use are a thing of the future. But for Dan Shafarman, owning one is a "never-ending adventure."

"The feeling you get when you step into one of these babies is unbelievable," Shafarman said, pointing to an original electric car, the Kelmak GT, on display at the International Electric Vehicle Exposition which opened today at McCormick Place.

"You get the feeling that everyone is looking at you when you drive it and it's just great," Shafarman added.

Well Cap Prospects Improve

STAVANGER, Norway (AP) — Gale winds and high seas were subsiding in the North Sea southwest of Norway today, improving prospects for a team of U.S. "well-killers" to try to cap the runaway oil well in the Ekofisk field.

Meanwhile, the first blowout in Norway's offshore oil field was developing into a major issue in the fall general election. The oil companies were worried that the minority Labor government would cancel plans for test drilling off northern Norway to begin next year.

-Texans Boots Hansen and Richard Hattenberg, well-known pipe-laying experts who work for veteran oilwell firefighter Red Adair, waited for good weather aboard the pipe-laying barge Choctaw.

The barge was near the drilling platform Bravo, on which the wellhead has been spewing oil and gas 60 feet or more into the air since the blowout Friday night during maintenance operations.

A fireboat continued to pump water on the rig to prevent a spark from igniting the oil.

When the weather permitted Hansen, Hattenberg and a work crew were going to hoist a shuttuff valve from the barge to the platform with a crane and try to bolt it over the wellhead to stop the flow.

If that first step was successful, more valves were to be added and then mud was to be pumped down the 10,000-foot deep well to check the pressure and hold the oil and gas down. This could bring the well completely under control in two or three days, experts said.

The Phillips Petroleum Co., which operates the well, said the drilling rig was enroute to the scene, and a new well would be drilled to divert the flow if the capping operation failed.

Waves of 20 feet and winds up to 50 miles per hour halted attempts to cap the well Monday and also stopped efforts to contain the growing oil slick with floating booms and skimming equipment.

The oil company estimates between 3.16 million and 3.3 million gallons of oil had gushed from the well by noon Monday. It estimated the continuing flow at between 840,000 and 1.1 million gallons a day.

Phillips said the rough weather Monday might have scattered and broken down some of the slick, which the company said covered an area six miles wide and 15 to 20 miles long. Southwest winds were pushing it in the direction of Norway's southern coast 12 miles away. But the Norwegian Meteorological Institute said even gale winds would only move it about 15 miles a day.

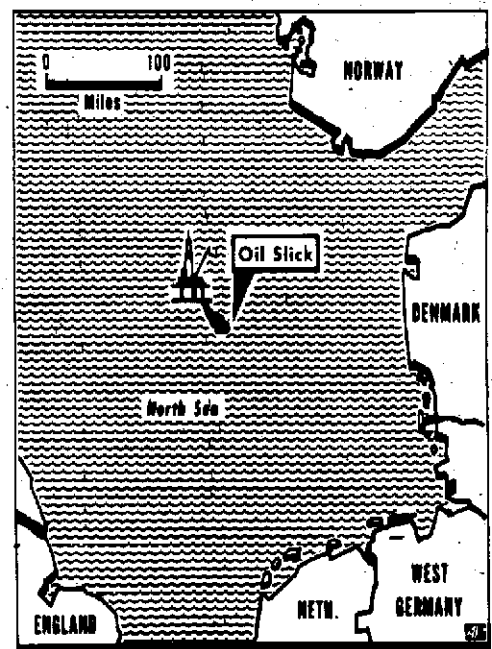

by 12 golf cart-type batteries, as are most electric cars, and is capable of reaching a top speed of 75 m.p.h. An overnight charge on the batteries usually provides a 65-mile traveling range for the vehicle, say its developers, Electric Engineering Co. of East Lansing, Mich.

"Right now, most people wouldn't be able to handle electric cars," said Shafarman. "They (cars) alter your lifestyle drastically, but once you make the adjustment everything is beautiful."

Shafarman, 32, a representative for Electric Engineering, recently converted his small foreign car into an electronic component vehicle by using a special kit manufactured by the company. The kit is the same one used to build the car on display. The total cost was about $2,500, he said.

"The kit runs about $1,500 and once installed and if properly maintained can last a lifetime," said Jeff Duboff, another Electric Engineering representative. "The batteries are an added expense of about $1,000, but when you consider the advantages of the electric car, it's more than worth it."

STILL SPREADING: Map locates the Bravo rig in the North Sea which has been spewing out natural gas and oil in a slick 15 to 20 miles long since last Friday. Gale force winds and 20-foot high waves have blocked efforts to cap the well operated by the Phillips Petroleum Co. of Bartlesville, Okla., in Norway's offshore Ekofisk oil field. (AP Wirephoto).

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An electrical engineer has designed a more efficient electric motor which he says could save one to two million barrels of oil per day if it is put into wide use.

Cravens Wanless told a news conference Monday that his "controlled torque" motor uses up to one-third less power than most electric motors. State officials termed the motor a "major billion-dollar breakthrough for energy conservation."

The Santa Ana, Calif., engineer said the motor, developed in his home workshop, uses more efficient windings and larger capacitors — energy storing devices — than conventional motors. The larger capacitors allow more energy to be stored within the motor for use as needed.

"It's not an obvious design ... it looks like a dumb thing to do," Wanlass said.

Glenn Bjorklund, a spokesman for Southern California Edison Co., which tested the device, said, "No one ever thought about doing it the way he did."

Wanlass said the new motor could be used in air conditioners, swimming pool filter motors, washing machines and other appliances as well as industrial machinery.

He said it would cost about $40 to modify a current one-horsepower electric motor to his design. But he added that motors in some appliances, such as refrigerators, would be more difficult to convert because of their casings.

Several hundred of the motors have been tested in Southern California for several months, Wanlass said. Officials at a fast-food operation in Santa Monica said the 11 motors tested at the establishment since February resulted in a 20 percent power savings.

between one and two million barrels of oil could be saved each day for every 500 million motors converted. The United States consumes 18 million barrels of oil per day.

A study for the Federal Energy Commission last year found that more than half of all the electricity generated in the nation runs electric motors in industry, business and homes.

Robert Batinovich, chairman of the state Public Utilities Commission, and Richard Maullin, state Energy Commission chairman, said that neither the PUC nor the Energy Commission was sponsoring the new motor.

New Senator Sworn In

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Arthur Miller of Warren was sworn in Monday night as the state Senate's newest member, bringing the chamber to its full membership for the first time this year. Miller, a three-term Warren city councilman, was elected last week in a special contest to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former Sen. John Dowman, D-Roseville, who became a lobbyist. Miller, a Democrat, defeated J. Edward Wyszynski of Roseville after winning the nomination over five other Democrats in a primary election. The election of Miller restored the Democrats' 24-14 edge in the chamber. Miller, 30, was named chairman of the Tourist Industry Relations Committee, a common post for a freshman. He was also named vice-chairman of the Education Committee and a member of the Conservation and Municipalities and Elections committees.

Human Cannonball Defends 'Privacy'

By RICHARD CARELLI
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even a self-proclaimed Human Cannonball has a right to privacy, says Hugo Zaccchini, who wants the Supreme Court to decide that television news cameras can't record his 15-second act without his permission.

The nation's highest court was told Monday that a Cleveland television station should not have been protected by its First Amendment right to gather the news when it filmed Zaccchini's entire act for use on a news program.

In the act, Zaccchini is shot from a cannon into a net some 30 feet away. His famous circus family has boasted a Human Cannonball among its members for more than 50 years.

The news media can't come in and under the guise of the First Amendment capture a performer's entire act," argued Cleveland lawyer John G. Lancione.

He said that Zaccchini has a right to publicity — a cross between a property right and the right to privacy.

The court's decision is expected before the end of its current term in June.

The Court refused to consider whether the editor of a student newspaper at a state university may refuse a paid advertisement describing counseling and legal services offered by an alliance for homosexuals.

The justices let stand a U.S. Circuit Court decision upholding the student editor's right to reject the ad because he objected to the subject matter.

The Mississippi Gay Alliance, with support from the American Civil Liberties Union, urged the Supreme Court to overturn the lower court ruling in the case involving "The Reflector," the student newspaper at Mississippi State University.

The ACLU lawyers argued that the newspaper is an arm of the state because it is published at a state-supported school. In that situation, they continued, the newspaper cannot constitutionally accept some commercial, political and social announcements and reject others simply because the student editor found the contents objectionable.

The Court let stand a lower court's ruling that the Federal Energy Administration is authorized to regulate all credit terms and payment schedules within the petroleum industry.

The justices turned down an appeal by the Marathon Oil Co., backed by the National Petroleum Refiners Association and the nation's major oil companies, claiming that a 1973 act passed by Congress gives the FEA no such authority.

FEA's regulation of credit within the industry has been vigorously opposed by the oil suppliers. Whether or not the removal of such controls would mean greater costs to purchasers — and eventually consumers — would depend on competition levels between the suppliers.

The restriction upon credit terms imposed sharply curtails the ability of all sellers of crude oil and refined petroleum products to adopt rational and economically sensible credit policies in response to current credit market conditions," industry lawyers said.

FEA's authority to regulate prices and mandatory allocation was not challenged.

The Court took no action today on the appeals of former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and ex-White House aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, who are contesting their convictions in the Watergate cover-up.

There was no indication from the court when it will announce whether it will hear the appeals of the three officials of former President Richard M. Nixon's administration, and no word is likely before next Monday.

National Public Radio reported last week that the court voted at its private conference April 15 to turn down the appeals but that Chief Justice Warren E. Burger delayed announcing the decision in an attempt to gain enough votes to grant review.

In other matters Monday, the court.

—Turned down the appeal of convicted mass-murderer Charles Manson, who claimed he deserved a new trial on charges that he murdered seven persons in the Tate-LaBianca killings of 1969.

—Let stand a lower court's ruling that states cannot tell the Army Corps of Engineers what safety precautions to take in dredging lakes and rivers.

—Left untouched a lower court's decision that those responsible for oil spills in U.S. waterways can be forced to pay penalties even when lawfully reporting the spill.

U-M Grads Guilty In Cocaine Scheme

DETROIT (AP) — Two University of Michigan honor graduates pleaded guilty Monday to engaging in an elaborate $8 million cocaine smuggling scheme stretching from Ann Arbor to South America.

The couple — Neil Ronald Ison, 28, and his wife, Mary, 24 — was charged in a grand jury indictment with involvement in a sophisticated two-year operation in which cocaine was imported by liquifying it and concealing it in whisky bottles.

Twenty-two other persons also were charged in the indictment. Ison was described by investigators as the mastermind of an organization which recruited several couriers for trips to La Paz, Bolivia in order to avoid detection.

The Isons entered their guilty pleas in return for an agreement by prosecutors that 17 separate drug distribution charges against Ison be dropped, criminal tax prosecution barred and reduced sentences recommended for both.

Conspiring to import and distribute cocaine is a crime punishable by up to 15 years imprisonment.

Ison said his organization's main source of the drug was a man nicknamed Gaspar, who headed an operation in La Paz.

Mrs. Ison, who was charged with only one conspiracy count, said her job was to answer telephones and run errands for the organization, headquartered in her apartment.

Prosecutors said they recommended the reduced charges because of the couple's "cooperation with the government."

In return for Ison's guilty plea, the government recommended a sentence of 10 years with five years' special parole and no fine. Ison also would be held in the prison of his choice.

Prosecutors recommended Mrs. Ison be allowed to plead guilty under the Youth Corrections Act and receive a probationary sentence.

No sentencing date was set. Ison is free on $500,000 bond and his wife on $100,000 bond.

GOAL: ATTRACT NEW BUSINESS

Coloma City-Merchant Alliance Eyed

COLOMA — A Coloma city commissioner last night called for an alliance between the city and the Coloma Downtown Merchants association to attract new business into the city.

Commissioner Robert Wooley said the city has had a reduction of business in the city resulting in several empty buildings.

According to Wooley, one store is presently going out of business and another is to follow late next month, while still another business up for sale.

"If the merchants association have any ideas on how we can attract new businesses into town, we (the city) should help them in any legal way we can," said Wooley after the meeting.

Reasons given for the decline in business by Wooley during the meeting include a lack of parking, competition from large stores surrounding the downtown area, and high rental fees by Coloma landlords.

"It's better to have a building full at half rent," said Wooley, "than to have an empty building at full rent."

Coloma Mayor Glenn Randall said, "The landlords should make an effort to attract someone to these buildings, and hopefully the merchants can talk with the landlords regarding the high rentals to get them lowered."

Wooley said the effort to attract business to Coloma should be started now to maintain the business district.

In other areas, the commission approved hiring Verda Jane McNease of Hartford to clean city hall at a cost of $20 per week for one cleaning.

Complaints were filed by Michael Healy, 243 Paw Paw street, concerning barking dogs and speeding cars along South Paw Paw street. The complaints were referred to the police committee.

Commissioner William Weybright reported 29 unlicensed cars were found parked in the city during a recent survey and he said plans call for the vehicles to be licensed or towed away.

Weybright, chairman of the city's police committee, also said a request for a $500 donation to the Berrien Metro Drug unit has been tabled until a financial breakdown can be obtained from the county unit.

Fred Ruess, branch manager of Cadillac Overall Supply Co., 138 East Logan, asked city officials if they would sell a small portion of the city parking lot, located east of the supply company, for use in delivery service to the firm.

The commission told Ruess no action could be taken until it was learned if the Coloma public library was still interested in the site.

A public hearing on how the city should spend $29,624 in federal revenue sharing funds drew no public response.

Randall recommended $1,000 of the funds be set aside for the North Berrien Senior center, located in Coloma.

James Noack, city public works coordinator, reported several incidents of low water pressures in residences in the city. A check of the areas has not resulted with any specific reason for the lower pressure, according to Noack.

The city accepted the sole bid of Hercules Roofing and Sandblasting, Dowagiac, for $2,800 for re-roofing the city hall building. Original cost estimates for the work had been estimated at between $3,000 to $5,000.

City Clerk Mrs. Patricia Beezley read a letter from the Coloma library board announcing the resignation of head librarian Mrs. Rita Tibbs effective June 30.

Planners Reject Apartment Bid In Coloma Twp.

COLOMA — By a 5 to 1 vote, the Coloma township planning commission last night voted not to rezone seven lots along Johnson road from commercial to multi-family use for a proposed apartment development.

The vote followed a public hearing on the rezoning request attended by 39 township residents.

During the hearing, petitions containing 37 signatures of property owners adjacent and near the property were opposed to the rezoning request were submitted to the commission.

Commission members voting not to rezone the lots were James Friday, board chairman; William Kennedy, Charles Abrams, Ronald Clark, and Mark Kellogg. Mrs. Helen Kuchinsky cast the only vote in favor of rezoning.

The request was filed by developers James G. and Harold Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. S.D. Tacy, the present landowners, and would have cleared the way for construction of two buildings, each containing four apartments.

In other areas, the commission heard a proposal for a 48-unit apartment development on 7.9 acres along Angling road near Ryno road.

Ken Fowler, head of KCF Properties, Lansing, accompanied by Jerry Rutter of East Lansing, appeared before the commission to outline plans for constructing six buildings, each containing eight apartments. Fowler placed the estimated cost of the proposed project at $840,000.

The proposal was similar to plans unveiled in June, 1976, by Rutter but never formally brought before the commission.

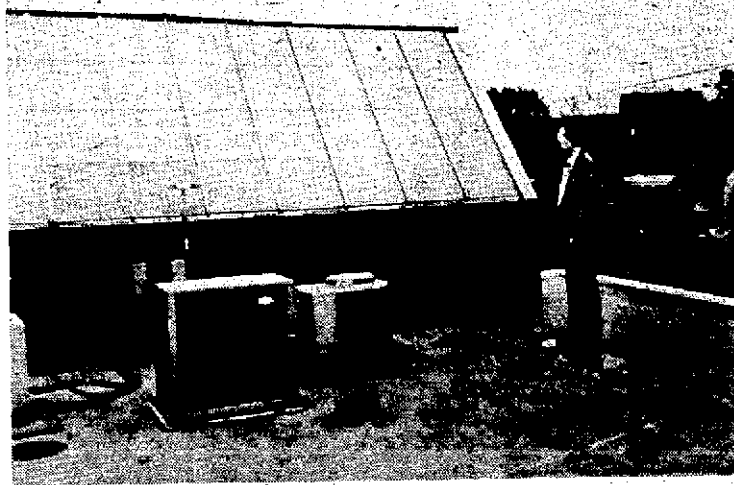

Commission Secretary Charles Abrams gave Fowler a form to fill out and return which requests a public hearing on a request to rezone the site from commercial to multi-family use. A date for the public hearing will be set after the form is completed and returned to the commission.

The commission also tabled until its May 23 meeting action on plans for a 10-lot subdivision in what had been Strong's resort, off off Paw Paw lake road.

Plans for the subdivision were presented by Terrance Drum, property owner, and John Hunt of Southwest Survey and Engineering Co., and call for constructing multi-family buildings on each lot.

In September, 1975, the commission approved rezoning the 4.4-acre tract from commercial to multi-family, for the purpose of constructing nine, two-story townhouse buildings.

Since the original proposal was outlined, the townhouse development has been replaced with apartment buildings.

Hartford Man Jailed After Reported Rape

BY DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

HARTFORD — State police of the Paw Paw post said they arrested a 31-year-old Hartford man last night after a Hartford woman reported her 21-month-old daughter had been raped.

Lodged in the Van Buren county jail on an open charge of criminal sexual conduct was James Paul Drewery, 31, route 2, CR-687, according to troopers.

The child was reported in satisfactory condition this morning at Lake View Community hospital, Paw Paw.

Police said the mother told them she found the child crying and blood in a bedroom upon returning home from a laundromat about 8 p.m. She said she had left the child with a man when she went out about 5 p.m., according to police. Troopers said the woman told them she was unable to call police until about 10 p.m. because she had been threatened. She told officers she went to a neighbor's to call after the man left the house, police said.

I&M, Consumers Clients Getting Break For May

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Customers of Indiana and Michigan Electric Co. and Consumers Power Co. will get a slight break on their May electric bills under monthly rate adjustments ordered Monday.

The adjustments, ordered by the state Public Service Commission, are based on the utilities' costs of purchasing power from other utilities.

The May rates for customers using 500 kilowatt hours of electricity a month, compared with April, are: Indiana & Michigan, $20.74, down 25 cents; and Consumers Power $19.81, down 92 cents.

The PSC also ordered a $1.96 decrease to $22.24 for Detroit Edison and a 30-cent decrease to $21.36 for Wisconsin-Michigan, but set a 61 cent increase to $18.31 for Edison Sault.

The Public Service Commission orders rate adjustments every month to reflect how much utilities have to pay to buy power from other utilities when their own plants aren't operating at full capacity.

Chairman Daniel Demlow and

Commissioner Lenton Sculthorpe voted for the purchased-power adjustments. Commissioner

William Rails, who opposes such adjustments without hearings, voted against them.

Watervliet Pair Going To 'States'

Stephen Tatter
Trudy Johnson

WATERVLIET — Stephen Tatter and Trudy Johnson have been selected as Watervliet high school's representatives to attend boys and girls state, respectively, this summer.

The 16-year-old juniors were selected by a vote of the high school faculty. Tatter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Tatter, route 3, Watervliet, will be sponsored by the Watervliet Lions club. Miss Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, route 2, Watervliet, is being sponsored by the Mecca club of Watervliet.

Tatter will attend boys state at Michigan State University, East Lansing, June 15 to 22. Miss Johnson will attend girls state at Olivet college, Olivet, June 11 to 19.

Students attending boy and girls state receive practical training in the democratic process of government by actually campaigning, electing and running various political offices from the city through state level, during their week's stay. The program is designed so they can relate their experiences to their classmates the following year.

Buchanan Puts 'Official' Tag On People Survey

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission last night voted to add the term "official city census" to a population survey being made in connection with a revised master plan for the city.

Commissioners voted 4-1 to add the term to the survey being conducted by Architects Inc., Elkhart, Ind., consultants on the master plan revision. Ray Enfield of the firm said the official census term might improve response to the survey designed to study the city population and housing.

Enfield said an official census might also assist the city in obtaining more federal funds by providing updated population information.

Under provisions of the city charter, the city commission can order an official city census. Enfield told the commission.

Casting the lone no vote was Commissioner Bennett Jensen, who said he doubted whether the term would improve response to the survey. He also pointed out the next official federal census of the city would be in 1980.

Voting yes were commissioners Richard Gault, R.W. Bellaire, Mrs. Mildred Anderson and Gene Wesner.

In other areas, the commission approved purchase of a backhoe from A.H. Choitz & Co., Inc., South Bend, Ind., at a cost of $12,098, including trade-in. The Indiana firm was the lowest of two bidders on the machine. High bidder was Tractorland Sales, Inc., Eau Claire, at a cost of $14,257, including trade-in.

Robert Faulhaber, city manager, had recommended to the commission that it seek new bids on the machine because of a difference in specifications, but Norm Klemz of the Indiana company complained last night that the move would place his firm at a disadvantage. Also last night, the commission approved a traffic control order over the intersection of East Front and Liberty streets. Because westbound traffic on Front street must merge from four lanes to two at the corner, the right hand lane (north) was designated a "thru lane only."

A request from the New Good Hope Baptist church to purchase two city lots next to the church on Fulton street was tabled for further consideration. The church hopes to purchase the land, now part of Ravish park, to expand.

A request from the Buchanan community schools that May 9 be declared student government day in the city was approved. Students will conduct a city commission meeting on that date.

A request that May 27 and 28 be declared Buddy Poppy days was approved. The Buchanan VFW auxiliary will solicit funds on those dates.

Members of the Buchanan Lions club were present at the meeting to sell white canes to commission members. April 25-May 2 has been designated White Cane week in the city and club members will solicit funds on May 1 and 2.

Court Ruling Clears Way For Baroda Trailer Park

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

A suit by five Baroda residents seeking to block construction of a mobile home park in the village has been dismissed by Berrien Circuit Judge William S. White, allowing construction to proceed.

White last week granted a motion for summary judgment by the defense, which dismisses the case. Defendants in the suit were the Village of Baroda, its council members and president, the village building inspector, and the developer.

White ruled that a new zoning ordinance passed by the village council which permits mobile home parks is valid, and there was therefore no basis for the suit. The plaintiffs in the action were Samuel Sonora Jr., Edwin Rath, Fred Donnell, Jean Jasper, and Sarah Cox.

The suit sought a judgment from the court declaring that a building permit allowing construction was illegal and asked a writ of mandamus ordering the village to enforce a local ordinance which had banned mobile home parks within the village.

The suit was filed last October, when the village's ordinance prohibited mobile home parks. But in December the council amended the ordinance to permit mobile homes in specified areas. White held the new ordinance was valid, noting the state Supreme Court has ruled that municipalities cannot totally exclude mobile home parks.

The permit to build the park was issued to Rudi Eichendorff, the developer, of 1889 Lemon Creek road, to build the park of more than 70 home sites on 28 acres off Stevensville-Baroda road.

Attorneys in the case were Village Atty. Daniel R. Deja, representing the defendants, and St. Joseph Atty. Thomas Fette, counsel for the plaintiffs.

New Buffalo Mulls Choice Of New AD

NEW BUFFALO — The New Buffalo school board last night tabled for additional study the appointment of an athletic director.

Last week, the board accepted the resignation of Max Burnett as athletic director and said it would appoint John Miller, assistant junior and senior high principal as Burnett's replacement. But, that brought an objection from teachers at the April 18 meeting who said the position should be advertised before being filled.

Also last night, the board approved a partial payment of $2,000 to the Quality Roofing Co. of Eau Claire which was the contractor for a $35,835 Central school roofing project. The board has held up full payment until alleged damage to the stage and gym floors was repaired. The district still owes the company $3,375.

Bangor Lets Police Radio Contract

BANGOR — The Bangor city council last night voted to hire Winkel's Communication

Center of South Haven to repair and maintain the city police communications system for the next year.

The service will cost $47 monthly, according to City Clerk Norma Sutherby.

In other areas, the council accepted the low bid of $1,890 from Hagen Ford Tractor Sales of Paw Paw for purchase of a tractor-mower for the cemetery.

The council also voted to send Harry Johnson, expected to be the city's next fire chief, to arson school in Lansing, May 1-6, voted to put two old police cars up for sale, approved letting state highway trucks dump up to 500 cubic yards of debris in the city's landfill over the next year for a fee not to exceed $375, and voted to ask for permission to hold parades on M-43 July 3 and May 30.

The council also elected Councilman Harry Latier as mayor pro tem.

Scrowcroft Firm Founder Dead

Hector Scrowcroft, 73, founder and past president of H. Scrowcroft Co., Benton Harbor, died at 2:30 a.m. today in St. Joseph Memorial hospital. He had been in failing health since 1972.

Mr. Scrowcroft lived at 560 West Napier avenue, Fairplain. He founded Scrowcroft Co. in 1931 as a manufacturer of sheet metal products. In 1964, the company at 1215 Milton street, was sold to Weil-McLain Co., of Michigan City. The company retained the name Scrowcroft and Mr. Scrowcroft became president and a director of Weil-McLain until retirement.

The company is now known as Weil-McLain Division, Benton Harbor plant. Mr. Scrowcroft was a member of the board of directors of Inter-City Bank from 1951 to 1972. He was a former president of the Fairplain school board and former president of the Twin City Child Guidance clinic. He was a member of St. Joseph Kiwanis club, Lakeshore Masonic lodge, Scottish Rite and Saladin Shrine of Grand Rapids.

Mr. Scrowcroft was born Dec. 31, 1903, in Denver, Colo., and had lived in this area since 1926.

Surviving are his widow, the former Elizabeth Engler, to whom he was married on Oct. 30, 1928; a son, Alan H. Scrowcroft, St. Joseph; a daughter, Mrs. Arthur (Laurel) Goldstein, France.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete this forenoon at the Fairplain Chapel, Florin funeral home, where friends may call after 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Foosball

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — Once thought of as a tavern game and a way to idle away the hours while sipping a frosty brew, the image of foosball, or table hockey, is changing, says Ken Rivera, one of 150 to 200 touring foosball pros. "There's more and more money involved, and as it becomes more and more professional we're trying to change it's image from a bar sport. It's a $500,000 professional tour with stops in eight cities," he said. Rivera, 25, who manages a table games entertainment center here, won $10,000 in 1975 when he and his partner swept the open doubles national championship. This year, $250,000 in prize money will be at stake in the world foosball championships in St. Louis. Rivera claims the Northwest is the top foosball-playing area in the country. The Oregon Foosball Association has more than 1,000 members and its Washington counterpart between 400 and 500, he said. "Maybe it's the rain, it keeps people inside," said Rivera.

A Check In Time . . .

WILMETTE, Ill. (AP) — If you need convincing that crime doesn't pay just ask the robber who held up a Brink's, Inc. armored truck driver — and escaped with bags stuffed with canceled checks. The man accosted the driver, Bernard Burton, as he stopped to make a pickup Monday at the Wilmette Bank, police said. The robber put Burton in his van and tied him up, then let him go when the robber switched to a getaway car about four blocks away. Carl Stanley, Wilmette Bank board chairman, said only canceled checks were taken. He said the theft would disrupt record keeping for a few days but noted that the bank had microfilm copies of all the checks.

You Bet They'll Win!

DENVER (AP) — Thirty pounds of Colorado beef versus 20 pounds of Oregon salmon. Those are the stakes Colorado and Oregon governors are wagering on the National Basketball Association semifinal playoffs between the Denver Nuggets and the Portland Trail Blazers. The original bet was $100 straight cash, but Oregon law forbids state officials from accepting $100 or more from anyone, even another governor. The stakes were changed to 100 pounds each of beef and salmon. Same problem. One hundred pounds of either is worth more than $100. So, Oregon Gov. Robert Straub and Colorado Gov. Richard Lamm settled on 30 pounds of beef against 20 pounds of salmon. The loser is to pay out of his own pocket and both governors have agreed the winner will donate the pot to a charitable institution. The Trail Blazers are one game out front in the best-of-seven playoff series. The next game is Tuesday in Portland.

Twice Hit

CALAIS, Maine (AP) — Prompt recovery of their stolen car brought little solace to Mr. and Mrs. Bror Olsson. Olsson, who owns two restaurants in this Canadian border city, was working at his Wickachee Dining Room Inn when he spotted two men driving his new car out of the parking lot Sunday. The theft was reported to authorities, and the vehicle was spotted a short time later. Police gave chase. Attempting to elude pursuers, the driver of the stolen car shifted into reverse, speeding backwards into another vehicle and crashing through the front glass window of the Restaurant Angelhym. The restaurant also is owned by Olsson. The two suspects fled on-foot but were nabbed moments later. Nobody was injured in the crash.

Stretchers

BOSTON (AP) — There aren't many grins in the ho-hum prose of an insurance policy, but insurance executives must get some chuckles reading the claims from some clients. "I was travelling down the road at approximately 35 miles per hour," explained one claimant. "As I rounded a curve, I felt a sudden rush of air. When I looked over, my wife was gone!" "I was driving my truck under a bridge and it didn't fit," wrote another. These and other claims are real, according to State Farm Year, the annual report of the State Farm Insurance companies. The publication also reports that in Florida and Utah, parachutists landed accidentally inside autos, then tried collecting damages from the auto insurers. And there was the claim by a driver explaining why he had backed his car 300 feet across a parking lot and into a store: "Car sat in sun too long and absorbed too much solar energy. When I started car, I could not control it." The insurance publication did not say how the claims were handled.

Hearing Asked On Sex Charge

NILES — Raymond Ealey, 21, of 125 Ridge street, Berrien Springs, demanded a preliminary examination on a charge of second degree criminal sexual conduct when arraigned in Fifth District court here yesterday.

Ealey was arrested initially on a charge of kidnapping after police were told by a Niles waitress that a man tried to assault her in her car as she left work early Sunday.

The Berrien prosecutor's office authorized the sexual conduct charge following a review of the case.

Ealey was arrested, according to police, about an hour after the waitress called police. The waitress told police she had managed to shove the man from her car to escape.

Judge John Jwaniuk set bond on Ealey at $10,000.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Angela Trudeau, Lacota and Mrs. Stella Mulligan, Calumet City, Ill.

AMA Says Error Was 'Innocent'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Medical Association, saying it made "an innocent error," wants more time before it has to reimburse the Postal Service for over $1 million in back postage.

The Postal Service said Monday the requested two-week extension "probably will be granted" to give AMA officials time to review computations the agency used in arriving at the total of $1,048,967.

The Postal Service, which had been seeking payment by Monday, says the amount represents underpayments for mailing the AMA weekly magazine during a 40-month period from 1972 through 1975. Officials say the magazines were mailed out at a rate for which they were not qualified.

supplemental spending bill. Meanwhile, Milliken met on Monday with representatives of a Holland citizens' group who told him the prison plan has more support than opposition in their area.

Milliken told the group the seminary has "a lot to offer," adding that persons who have criticized the site as too lush for criminals are misinformed.

The proposed site is located near the Lake Michigan shoreline resort area.

"I can't understand this attitude," he said. "It's as if we should personally seek out a Gary, Ind. The prisoners won't even be able to see the lake or feel the breeze from the water."

"We decided to come because we have seen the panic and that alarmed us," said Elsie Lamb, a member of the group expressing support for the site. "We want the governor to know there are others who feel the community can handle this and it will work."

Milliken assured the group that "security provisions will be tough" at the seminary.

Trio Face Break-In Charges

PAW PAW — Three Paw Paw teenagers were arraigned Monday in Seventh district court on charges growing out of the theft of some $1,500 worth of athletic equipment from Paw Paw high school March 18.

Demanding preliminary examination on charges of breaking and entering were James Varnesdel, 19, 38th street; Terry Lee Davis, 17, Ridgeland subdivision; and Gary Gordon, 19, 1285 30th street. All were released on their own recognizance pending May 3 hearings.

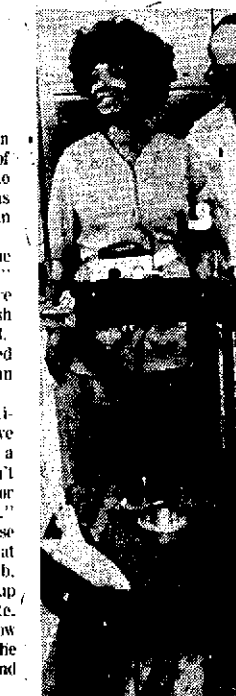

Paw Paw Police Chief George Fadel said the equipment, which included 85 football jerseys, has all been recovered. A 16-year-old boy has also been petitioned into Van Buren juvenile court in connection with the burglary, he said.

In other cases, Tracey Lee Blakely, 18, 209 North School street, Decatur, demanded preliminary examination on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and carrying a dangerous weapon.

Decatur police said Blakely was arrested early Sunday morning after officers had gone to investigate a report of a disturbance at a house at CR-352 and 42nd street in Decatur township. Police said that when they tried to arrest a man on a charge of being drunk and disorderly he put up a struggle, and during the fracas a knife allegedly fell from his clothes.

John R. Castanon, 41, 556 Midway, Benton Harbor, demanded preliminary examination on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants Saturday on Red Arrow highway in Lawrence township.

Both Blakely and Castanon were released on their own recognizance pending May 3 hearings.

State Probes Food Poisoning In Monroe Area

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — State health authorities said Monday they are investigating at least six cases of food poisoning apparently caused by a bacteria caused toxin.

Three persons — a woman, her two-year-old son and an unrelated man — were hospitalized Monday, officials said. The victims were not identified.

Three others became ill Sunday after eating at Mr. J's Family Restaurant, but not badly enough to require hospitalization.

Harry Grenawitzke, head of the environmental health section of the Monroe County Health Department, said the staphylococcus bacteria were found in a ground ham product packed by Rendi-Freeze, a division of the Oscar Mayer Co. (Grenawitzke is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grenawitzke of Fairplain; his mother was Benton Harbor city clerk.)

All of the victims had eaten omelettes containing ham, health officials said.

Prostitute Strangled; Leaves File

DETROIT (AP) — Police are checking out a file of some 300 names of business executives found in the apartment of a high-priced prostitute who had been strangled.

The card index file found in the apartment of Mary Ann Polk, 27, a $40-a-trick call girl, held names from the Detroit area, southern and western states and Canada, police said.

The file contained brief descriptions of the men and their sexual preferences and notations indicating she made appointments with them in hotel parking lots, police said.

Miss Polk's body was found Sunday by her apartment building manager, who entered her quarters with a passkey because he had not seen her in several days.

Detectives said Monday that Miss Polk had been dead three days.

In addition to the card file, her apartment held a booklet of telephone numbers of hundreds of prostitutes, five telephones and business cards for "Mary Ann Private Secretarial Service."

She held a $20,000 life insurance policy naming a daughter, who lives with a friend, as beneficiary, detectives said.

U.S. Hunts Test Victims

ATLANTA (AP) — The national Center for Disease Control, which is searching for Army troops exposed to a nuclear bomb test in Nevada in 1957, has received hundreds of calls about the search but none from persons involved in the test. The CDC is looking for the roster of the 50th Airborne Infantry Regiment of the 82nd Airborne Division as part of a research project on whether low-dose radiation might be causing delayed leukemia. About 1,100 persons — including about 250 members of the 50th — were at the Yucca Flats test site for the exercise in nuclear war training, said Dr. Glyn G. Caldwell, deputy chief of the cancer branch of the CDC.

Bell To Prosecute Agent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite FBI claims of shattered morale, Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell says he'll continue the prosecution of an FBI man for allegedly illegal mail-opening and wiretapping because it's a matter of principle. "What is at stake is the rule of law," Bell said Monday after listening for 90 minutes as FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley and 10 agents complained that bureau morale has suffered because of the charges and the continuing Justice Department investigation. Bell said he has given no thought to dismissing the indictment against former FBI supervisor John J. Kearney, charged with directing an illegal mail-opening and wiretapping operation in the New York field office from August 1970 through June 1972.

Prices Up In Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — After five days of curfew, housewives in Pakistan's largest city say the price of eggs and potatoes has doubled, cooking oil is not to be found, flour is scarce in the government's ration stores and the blackmarket price has gone up 40 per cent. Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto declared martial law last Thursday in Karachi, Lahore and Hyderabad and put them and other cities under curfew after nearly seven weeks of nationwide demonstrations charging him with large-scale vote fraud and demanding his resignation. Most industrial plants in Karachi are shut down. Health services have been hurt because many doctors have not gotten curfew passes to get to their clinics. But after political violence throughout the country in which nearly 200 people were killed, no killing has been reported for two days.

Peace Restored In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The cease-fire in Beirut has been restored after three days of fighting between Syrian troops and Palestinian guerrillas. Palestinian sources said more than 80 persons were killed in the worst battling since Syrian forces halted Lebanon's civil war five months ago. The police said 21 noncombatants were among the dead, and a Christian radio station reported 12 Syrian and six Saudi Arabian soldiers of the Arab League peacekeeping force killed. The Syrians launched a house-to-house search for guerrillas of a pro-Iraqi Palestinian organization and a pro-Libyan Lebanese Muslim group after two Syrian soldiers were killed Friday night. Fighting raged through the weekend over a square mile of one of Beirut's most densely populated slums.

Chase Lasts 15 Hours

CHARLEVILLE, Mich. (AP) — A 17-year-old Central Lake youth was arrested Monday by State Police in Ligonier, Ind., after a 15-hour chase that started with the theft of a van in Charlevoix. Officials said Danny Ray Halladay, along with two young girls, stole a van Sunday night in Charlevoix. Police said the three apparently abandoned the vehicle for a car in Petoskey and headed for Harbor Springs. Police in Harbor Springs spotted the auto and gave chase. The stolen car left the road and smashed into a concrete wall, injuring the two girls. But, police said, Halladay fled on foot and then stole a third car.

This time the youth made it all the way to Indiana before an off-duty Indiana State Police officer spotted him as he tried to sell the car at a gasoline station.

Back Behind Bars

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — A Shields man was back behind bars Monday, and a jail booking officer faced disciplinary action for mistakenly letting him out. Michael J. Waskiewicz, who was awaiting trial for attempted murder in connection with the beating of his wife, stepped forward when a guard went to a cell to get John Titoff on Sunday, jail officials said. Titoff, who had completed a sentence for offensive touching, did not step forward. Waskiewicz identified himself as Titoff to the booking officer but signed his own name to the release slip. The booking officer did not notice the different name and could be disciplined, officer said. Waskiewicz was picked up by city police about two hours after leaving the jail.

Judge Quotes Shakespeare

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ranking Michigan State Police officers are entitled to pay for off-duty time they must spend on call, a judge has ruled. The ruling affects more than 200 officers, mostly detectives and other specially-trained officers, who are on call around the clock for a week at a time and must stay within reach of a telephone. A lawyer for nearly 200 of the officers said if the state Court of Claims ruling stands, it would give state police the same rights most other Michigan policemen have. Judge Joseph P. Swallow of Alpena County Circuit Court, presiding as a claims court judge, said the on-call duties — awaiting and responding to crims — aren't that different from officers' regular hours. He quoted Shakespeare: "That which we would call a rose," by any other name, would smell as sweet."

Hartford To Vote On 10-Mill School Levy

HARTFORD — A property tax millage proposal combining renewal of a previous six-mill rate and an additional four mills was put on the Hartford school district's June 13 election ballot last night. The 10-mill package was voted onto the ballot by the school board in a 5 to 1 vote. It would be for three years.

Board Member James Keech who voted against the proposal said after the meeting he felt the combining of the two issues had a "tendency to be deceptive." Keech said he favored placing two separate proposals on the ballot.

Voting in favor of the 10-mill issue were board members William Austin, Roger Duncombe, Stephen Shafer, Thomas Smith and Marion Toney. Mrs. Lyall Bouthby was absent. Supt. Gary Waterkamp said the additional four mills would generate about $100,000 a year more in local property tax revenue. The six mills would yield about $150,000 yearly. The six-mill renewal part of the issue stemmed from the expiration with the last tax collection of a similar issue. The district's tentative 1977-78 budget has been set at $2,102,822. The current year's budget is $1,836,948. Waterkamp said, if approved, the levy would raise the district's operating millage tax rate to 26.58 mills. The district will also levy a rate for debt retirement, but Waterkamp said the amount was not yet known. For the last tax collection the debt retirement rate was 7.18 mills.

In other business, the board approved policies setting up safety and health committees both on the district level and for each school building. The committees in the individual buildings will recommend safety and health policies and oversee health and safety education. On the district level the committee will study accident prevention methods and act on building committees' recommendations.

Waterkamp said the new policies were not directly a result of an accident last September in which Tracey Heater, 10, was injured fatally when a bookcase toppled on her in an elementary school. Waterkamp said he hopes the establishment of the committees will prevent "accidents in general."

A suit filed by the girl's mother, Mrs. David (Sue) Heater, charges the school district, Waterkamp and school principal Eugene Snider with negligence.

The board gave tentative approval to the district's 1977-78 school calendar. Changes from last year include cutting two days from Christmas vacation and adding an additional day for spring vacation. The tentative calendar will be posted for faculty review and suggestions. Formal action will be taken at the board's May meeting. The calendar is the same for all schools in the county to help scheduling for the Van Buren intermediate school district skill center.

A form for a state-mandated school census was approved. The census will be taken by members of the Hartford Athletic Booster club at a cost of $500. The census is to be completed during May. The form seeks information on ages, addresses, parents, sex of child and race.

The board took no action on a request or a donation of $1,000 toward a youth and family services program of the Van Buren Community Mental Health center. Director of the program, Eric Hayes, told the board that the program works with children with emotional problems.

A resolution supporting the formation of a county school board association was approved by the board. Van Buren county school boards are in the process of forming an association.

The board authorized James Kappler, athletic director, to work with the Hartford recreation council to establish scheduling for summer recreation activities.

Gobles Board Calls For 11.9 Mill Vote

GOBLES — The Gobles School board last night approved placing a three-year, 11.9 mill property tax levy for school operations on the annual June 13 school election ballot.

The proposal includes an additional 3.9 mills plus 8 mills of renewal that expired with the last tax collection.

The request came two days after school district voters here defeated a $3.15 million bond issue that would have financed construction of a new high school, plus remodeling of the present high school and elementary building. The issue calling for a first-year debt retirement millage of 7.5 mills was defeated by a 623 to 433 margin.

Based on the district's current state equalized valuation, the 3.9 extra mills would raise some $69,500 in local property taxes plus an additional amount in state aid that would offset an expected 1977-78 deficit of $175,000, Supt. Guy Levesee said. The 8 renewal mills would raise some $142,500 locally.

The district's 1976-77 budget is $1,230,984.

If the millage is approved the district's total millage rate would be 24.81 mills compared to the current 20.91 levy, which is the lowest of any district in Van Buren county.

The board had no comment on the school bond issue defeat and instructed its citizen's committee to turn its attention toward the June 13 millage election.

In other areas, the board approved seeking bids on a 30 by 80 foot pole building to be erected near the athletic fields for storage purposes. Pine Grove township board has purchased the old Kendall school from the district, and school supplies must be moved. Estimated cost of such a structure would be around $10,000, Supt. Levesee said.

The board approved continuing participation in the Regional Media center program which distributes library films to schools throughout Berrien, Cass and Van Buren counties. Cost of the service this year is $1.60 per student or about $1,800 for Gobles, Levesee said.

The board approved joining the Van Buren county school board association and named Levesee and Roy Dietrich, trustee, to the board's contract negotiation committee for next year.

Hartford Race Gets Write-In Candidate

ROBERT WILLIAMSON

HARTFORD — Robert Williamson, Hartford, last night told the school board here he will be a write-in candidate for a four-year seat on the school board in the June 13 school election.

Williamson, 27, route 2, in a brief prepared statement told the board he would like to see more communication between the schools and community and within the school system. He also said he wanted to see an effort to stop "escalation" of local property taxes, and more discipline in the schools.

He joins three candidates who filed for election April 11 for three three seats on the board. Two, incumbent Marion Toney and Barry J. Nilson, filed for four-year seats. Incumbent Roger Duncombe, filed for the remaining two years of a term vacated by resignation.

Tax Sponsors Say Election Assured

BUCHANAN — A group of Buchanan residents said last night they had obtained enough signatures on petitions to get an election on a 2.6-mill property tax proposal for school operations.

Mrs. Daniel Shelles, 311 West Front street, Buchanan, said that the group presented petitions with 800 signatures to Mrs. Jeannette Mahan, school board secretary, last night.

The group hopes that the one-year proposal will be placed on the annual school election ballot on June 13. Deadline for filing such petitions in time for the annual vote was yesterday, Mrs. Shelles said.

The group launched the drive because it was unhappy with a recent school board decision to trim $160,000 from the district's 1977-78 operating budget. It seeks the added millage to restore cuts that included elimination of the entire music strings program and reduced industrial arts and home economics programs.

Next step, according to Mrs. Shelles, will be verification of the signatures on the petitions. They will then be submitted to the school board for action.

he vote would come after approval of a one-year, 2.4-mill renewal proposal by school district voters on April 18. Should the 2.6 mill levy be placed on the ballot, and then approved, the total operating levy would be 31.376 mills. Another three mills will be levied to meet debt retirement obligations.

Driver Cited After Truck Plows Across Golf Green

BUCHANAN — Alan Meador, Niles, was issued two traffic citations yesterday after a truck swerved onto the 10th green at the Orchard Hills country club here, causing an estimated $5,000 damage, according to state police at the Niles post. Police said a pickup truck swerved off Niles-Buchanan road, ploughed down a steep embankment, crossed the green and two fairways before driving from the scene.

Meador, 18, was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law by going too fast for conditions, and failing to identify himself at the scene of the 3:40 p.m. accident, troopers said.

Police said Meador told them he had attempted to pass two cars on the road, but was unable to do so. Police related Meador said he left the scene because he was due for work.

Troopers said the driver was traced by a license plate number provided by a witness. There were no injuries, police said.

'Fuel Stamp' Hearings Due

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Creation of a fuel stamp system for the elderly and the poor will be the subject of public hearings scheduled in four Michigan cities this week and next. The bill would enable elderly persons with incomes under $8,000 a year and persons getting public assistance to buy coupons that would pay part of their gas and electric bills. The hearings before the state House Social Services Committee will be Friday at the City-County Building in Detroit, May 2 at Willard Harris auditorium in Flint, and May 6 at the Neighborhood Center West Side Complex in Grand Rapids, all at 9 a.m., and May 2 at city hall in Corunna at 2:30 p.m.

150,000 Acres 'Protected'

MANCHESTER, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's 1974 farmland preservation act has allowed farmers to protect more than 150,000 acres from local property tax increases, according to Lt. Gov. James Damman. The act, designed to give tax breaks to farmers who agree to keep land in production and not sell out to commercial development, has resulted in some 900 agreements between farmers and the state, Damman said. Damman made his comments in remarks prepared for delivery Monday night to the Manchester chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Scouring The Woodlands

BRIGHTON, Mich. (AP) — Searchers continued Monday to scour the woodlands near a Brighton campground for a 23-year-old mentally retarded Boy Scout who disappeared on an outing. The missing man, Dan Geib, was described by his mother, Irene Blight of Roseville, as having a mental age of about 10. He vanished Saturday after being granted permission to walk to the camp store with another member of a special troop for disabled scouts. The search has drawn nearly 400 scouts and scoutmasters from the Detroit area, who have joined Livingston County sheriff's deputies, state police and Brighton police.

BILL DALY HONORED AT 90

His Success Rule: 'Stick To It'

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Bill Daly, the oldest recipient of the Michigan Frozen Food Packers Association's distinguished service to agriculture award, took the honor in stride last night.

He thanked the 273 people who attended the Southwestern Michigan Agricultural banquet in his honor at Berrien Hills country club, and told them his eight children had forbidden him from making a speech.

He added: "There's nothing to success. All you have to do is stick to it." With that the 90-year-old Riverside grower sat down, leaving the speeches to others.

Edward Broderick, Hagar township supervisor and a neighbor of Bill and his wife, Elizabeth, said Daly has always been an innovative grower. "Rather than stand back and see it happen, he goes out and makes it happen," he said.

Broderick said he drove past Daly's farm on Riverside road last week. "Bill was planting peaches," he said.

State Rep. Bela E. Kennedy, of the 45th district, gave Daly one of several awards he received during the dinner. Kennedy and Gov. William Milliken signed a special plaque honoring Daly.

Kennedy, of Bangor, told how it was Daly's grandmother who got the family started in the peach business. Daly's grandfather immigrated from Ireland in 1846 and bought a 160-acre farm near Riverside. In 1858, Daly's grandmother planted a peach orchard.

The orchard was killed by the severe winter of 1871, but Daly's grandmother and the rest of the family replanted it.

"As a 13-year-old, Bill learned that there must be easier farming than spending ten hours a day on his hands and knees weeding sugar beets. By the time he was 17, he was running the family farm. That was in 1904, and he still keeps up with the latest developments in agriculture."

Robert Carpp, president of the packers association, presented the 23rd annual award to Daly. "He has had a great interest in the latest and most experimental facts of farming. His reputation as an innovator and evaluator of fruit varieties has made Bill a man whose opinion was sought by plant breeders, experimental stations and all of the industry," Carpp stated.

B. Dale Ball, secretary of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, presented Daly with a resolution of honor from the state Commission of Agriculture.

Last night's speaker was Dr. Thomas S. Haggai, a High Point, N.C., minister and orator. He talked about the "tragedies of affluence" of American life.

Through conservation, creativity and constructive self-criticism, Americans can "perfect ourselves for the glory of God," he said.

Three Young Girls Hurt In Hartford

HARTFORD — Three young Hartford girls were injured when hit by autos in two separate accidents late yesterday afternoon, Hartford police reported.

Listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Watervliet Community hospital were Jamie Kay Merrill, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merrill, 10 South Center street, and Jessica Fuller, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Fuller, 20 Beachwood trails. A third girl, Jana Joyce Merrill, sister of Jamie, was treated and released from Community hospital.

Police said witnesses reported the Merrill sisters darted out onto West Main street from between parked cars and were hit by an auto driven by Michael Hallman, 29, route 3, CR-376, Coloma. The accident occurred around 4:45 p.m. Hallman was not ticketed, police said.

The Fuller child was struck around 5:46 p.m. by an auto driven by Edward Sanford, 59, Lot 1, Beachwood mobile home village. Police said Sanford was backing out of his driveway and did not see the child when she darted in behind his auto in the driveway. Sanford also was not ticketed, police said.

Bloom'dale Board Seeking 2 Levies

BLOOMINGDALE — The Bloomingdale school board last night approved placing two separate property tax millage proposals on the annual school election ballot June 13.

The first proposal seeks renewal of 18.5 mills in property taxes for operations that expired with the last tax collection. The renewal millage is the district's entire extra voted millage.

The second proposal seeks an additional 3 mills in property taxes for school operations. Ball proposals are for one year.

The district for the last tax collection levied a total of 29.18 mills, including 8.58 allocated by the county and 2.1 mills for debt retirement. If both proposals are approved, the district's total levy would be 32.18 mills.

Based on the district's current state equalized valuation of $20,135,415, the 18.5 mills would raise some $373,000 in local taxes and the three additional mills some $80,500. Similar amounts would also be granted in state aid if the requests are approved.

At its March meeting, the board approved a tentative operating budget of some $2,063,770 for the 1977-78 school year, featuring a deficit of some $96,000. The additional millage along with state aid would offset the projected deficit.

In other areas, the board set Sept. 12 as the date for a special school bond issue election. The amount to be sought has not been determined yet as architects are preparing plans for an addition to the high school. Such an addition would enable the district to eliminate half-day sessions at the senior and junior high level. The district is currently in its seventh year of half-day sessions.

James Scholley, elementary principal, announced that over $4,000 in profit was realized from a school candy sale. The money will be used by the elementary music department.

It was announced that Dr. Donald Dragon, superintendent will speak on community involvement Saturday, April 29, at the Lee township hall. The public may attend.

Long-Ago Crash Blamed

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — A motorcycle accident 30 years ago caused a Buena Vista man to go on an alleged shooting spree last week, his brother said Monday. Lyle E. Brady, 64, suffered seven skull fractures in the accident, his brother Floyd said. "The doctor told us it would affect his mind and I guess it has, finally," Floyd Brady said. Lyle Brady was held in the county jail here in lieu of $100,000 bond on two charges of assault with intent to murder.

Coaches Can't Complain Anymore...Refs End Strike

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Heinsohn and Gene Shue won't have substitute referees to kick around anymore.

The coaches of the Boston Celtics and Philadelphia 76ers, who have complained bitterly over the officiating in the National Basketball Association playoffs, will finally have first-string referees to pick on as a result of Monday's strike settlement.

The NBA's 24 striking officials laid down their picket signs and picked up their whistles after reaching an agreement with the NBA to work the remaining playoff games until a contract can be secured.

With the exception of veterans Earl Strom and Richie Powers, two referees who are not union members, the officials walked off the job on April 10, the final day of the regular NBA season. The NBA pressed minor league officials into service.

Players, coaches and the officials themselves said Monday they were relieved the 16-day walkout is over.

"The playoffs are very important, and it's important to me as a couch to have the very best officials working," said Shue.

"Breaking in new officials is fine in an orderly fashion, and some of the younger officials who filled in did a good job," Shue added. "But because of what's at stake, it's a very different situation. I have the greatest respect for our officials."

Under the pact announced Monday, the National Association of Basketball Referees and the NBA agreed to drop charges against each other. With a no-strike pledge from the referees, contract talks will begin after the playoffs.

The referees won a $150 across-the-board raise for each game they worked, and the NABR won recognition as the exclusive bargaining agent for the officials — one of the key points in the dispute. All NBA referees must pay dues to the organization in the future.

"I'm glad to see it's over," said Jake O'Donnell, a 10-year veteran of NBA officiating. "The money wasn't the big thing. We have a voice now in the NBA. We can bargain as an association.

Now they just won't throw a bone at you and say, 'Here.'"

Deputy NBA Commissioner Simon Gourdine and NABR counsel Richie Phillips hammered out the interim agreement after talks resumed Sunday.

Among complaints about the inexperienced officials was Shue's protest of Philadelphia's 124-119 quarter-final loss to Boston on Sunday. Shue protested referee Joe Crawford's ruling that awarded Boston 10 seconds to advance the ball to midcourt after the 76ers knocked the ball out of bounds in the backcourt. The 76ers eventually dropped the protest, citing financial considerations.

Boston's victory provided the Celtics with a 2-2 tie in their best-of-seven-game series. The fifth game is scheduled for Wednesday night in Philadelphia.

Three other quarter-final games will be held tonight — Los Angeles at Golden State, Denver at Portland and Houston at Washington. Los Angeles, Portland and Washington all hold 2-1 leads in their series.

Golden State, NBA champions two years ago with virtually the same team, will have the homecourt advantage for the second straight game. The Warriors beat Los Angeles 100-105 Sunday behind Rick Barry's 40 points to stay alive in their Western Conference series.

Denver goes into tonight's Western Conference playoff game at Portland with high scoring center Dan Issel nursing an infected foot. Issel, bothered by the foot in Sunday's 110-104 loss to the Blazers, spent part of the day Monday at a hospital having the foot drained. If Issel can't start, second-year man Marvin Webster will have to carry the load.

Mitch Kupchak, a rookie from North Carolina, has been instrumental in Washington's series with Houston. In the opener at Houston, Kupchak came off the bench to score 32 points and lead the Bullets to a 111-101 victory. After the Rockets tied the Eastern Conference series with a 124-118 decision in Game No. 2, Kupchak assumed the leading role with 23 points as the Bullets beat the Rockets 83-80 on Sunday.

Foster Paces 23-9 Rout

Reds Bomb Braves

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The awakening Cincinnati Reds did not wash away their frustrations Monday night. Instead, they almost washed away the Atlanta Braves.

Apparently determined to prove that anything the Los Angeles Dodgers can do, they can do better, the world champion Reds, who had scored only 25 runs in their previous seven games and went to Atlanta with a four-game losing streak and an embarrassing 4-10 record, unloaded 18 hits and buried the Braves 23-9.

Gen. Sherman could not have sacked Atlanta any better, although the Dodgers teed off on the Braves' beleaguered pitching staff for 16 runs and 16 hits Sunday.

"You don't wash away frustrations with games like these, you do it by winning 2-1 games," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson, who benched All-Star catcher Johnny Bench Sunday and threatened to seat other non-producers.

"I'd rather see a well-played game than one like this one. Don't get me wrong, I like to win any way we can, but the other kind pleases me more. This kind is nice when you're on the right end of it, but I don't enjoy them because when you're on the other end it's not very pleasant."

The Reds scored six runs in the first inning and erupted for 12 runs in the fifth, tying a modern NL fifth-inning record and scoring the most runs against the Braves since they moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta in 1968.

George Foster drove in seven runs with a three-run homer in the first inning, a run-scoring double in the second and an RBI single as well as a two-run homer in the fifth. Bench and Cesar Geronimo also homered.

The Reds' onslaught made it easy for pitcher Jack Billingham although he was reached for 17 hits and all nine Atlanta runs in eight innings.

In the only other National League game, the Dodgers whipped the San Diego Padres 7-3 as Ron Cey walloped his sixth and seventh home runs of the season. The St. Louis-Chicago game was postponed by cold weather.

In the American League, the New York Yankees defeated the Baltimore Orioles 9-6, the California Angels trounced the Oakland A's 11-6 and the Boston Red Sox edged Toronto 6-5 after the Blue Jays won the opener of a doubleheader 4-3.

Cey drove in three runs with his two homers, and Rick Rhoden won his third straight game with a seven-hitter. Cey, who has hit in all 15 Dodgers' games, increased his National League-leading RBI total to 25, a club record for the month of April.

Randy Jones, last year's Cy Young Award-winner, took the loss and dropped to 1-3. Steve Garvey also homered and Davey Lopes rapped three hits as the Dodgers won for the 10th time in their last 11 games. Dave Winfield and Gary Sutherland homered for the Padres.

Reggie Jackson answered Baltimore's boobies with a two-run fifth-inning homer, keying a three-run rally that propelled the Yankees to their sixth consecutive victory. Jackson, who signed a lucrative New York free agent contract after one season in Baltimore in which he played out his option, also legged out a ground double on the wet grass in a two-run first inning and doubled and scored in the eighth.

Thurman Munson also hit a two-run homer for the winners. Jackson was booed continuously and had to be restrained from going after a fan when the game ended.

Manager Billy Martin said a jagged piece of glass, was thrown at him and he was struck by a piece of ice. A large plastic container was thrown into right field when Jackson took his position in the seventh inning and about a dozen hot dogs were tossed toward home plate when he batted for the first time.

Nolan Ryan allowed 18 baserunners in 2 2/3 innings but came away a winner as home runs by Don Baylor, Tony Solaita and Bobby Grich powered California over Oakland. Ryan struck out only four and allowed 10 hits, five runs, walked seven and hit a batter before being relieved in the sixth.

Boston struck for four runs in the seventh inning, including two RBI by Jim Rice, tying the score and Rick Burleson's sacrifice fly scored the winner in the eighth as the Red Sox edged Toronto and split a doubleheader. The Blue Jays won the opener as Otto Velez belted two home runs, the second a two-run shot in the eighth that erased a 3-2 deficit.

Randle Hit With Battery Charge In Lucchesi Case

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A warrant, charging suspended Texas Rangers second baseman Lenny Randle with aggravated battery in the spring training beating of Manager Frank Lucchesi has been issued by local authorities.

Randle is charged with beating Lucchesi in Orlando as the two were discussing Randle's status with the team. Lucchesi spent seven days in a hospital. Lucchesi had no comment on the filing of the criminal charges and also declined to comment on whether he would file civil charges.

"Once again, I'm saying no comment," said Lucchesi. "I have two years under the statute of limitations to decide on something like that and I'm not worried about it at this time. My only worry is about the Rangers playing winning baseball."

Randle reportedly was angry over losing his job to rookie Bump Wills, son of former Los Angeles Dodgers star Maury Wills.

The Rangers' 30-day suspension of Randle ends Wednesday. The club has been trying to trade Randle, whom they fined $10,000.

State Atty. Robert Eagan of Orlando, the local prosecutor, said his office investigated the incident and that he made the decision to file the warrant without any prompting from the Rangers.

The warrant was sent to police in Arlington, Tex., and Tempe, Ariz., where Randle may be staying. Eagan's office said Randle will be extradited unless he returns voluntarily to Orlando and faces the charge.

The charge, a second-degree felony, carries a maximum 15-year prison term and/or a $10,000 fine.

Milt May 'Ideal' Catcher

DETROIT (AP) — Milt May is hitting the baseball like nobody else with the Detroit Tigers, but his talents as a catcher are appreciated as much, if not more.

Manager Ralph Houk praises May's batting talents, which give him a .364 average, the best on the team.

"But Houk has even better things to say about May's catching."

"He's an ideal catcher with all the young pitchers we have on the team," Houk said. "He handles them real well. He talks to them on the bench between innings, and he settles them down during the game."

May came to the team in December 1975 as part of a trade which sent four players to the Houston Astros. The Tigers got May, Jim Crawford and Dave Roberts.

After only six games with Detroit, May broke his ankle and sat out most of the year.

This season, however, he's proving himself as an all-around player. But despite his batting power, May finds himself in seventh spot in the order.

Houk says there's not much he can do about it.

"I could move him up in the order," Houk explained. "But he can't go from first to third, and I'd hate to have him clogging up the basepaths with all those other good hitters coming up. And I certainly can't hit him second."

"Batting him seventh, behind (Steve) Kemp, may get Kemp some better pitches to hit because the pitchers don't want to face Milt with men on base."

May will try to extend his hitting streak to nine games today when the Tigers meet the Chicago White Sox at Tiger Stadium.

On the mound for Detroit will be rookie Dave Rozema, who shut out the Boston Red Sox last Thursday in chalking up his first major league victory. He will be opposed by Chicago's Ken Brett.

Wednesday, the probable lineups have Ray Bare of the Tigers facing Francisco Barrios for Chicago.

Nordiques Whip Racers, 8-3

QUEBEC (AP) — The Quebec Nordiques took a 2-0 lead over Indianapolis in their World Hockey Association best-of-seven semifinal playoff series with an 8-3 victory.

Left wing Steve Sutherland led the way with three goals. Marc Tardif and Normand Dube, each playing in his second game of the playoffs after being sidelined by injuries, also scored Monday night.

Real Cloutier, Francois Lacombe and Serge Bernier connected for the remaining Quebec goals, with Blair MacDonald, Pat Stapleton and Reg Thomas scoring for the Racers.

Nordiques Coach Marc Boileau was pleased with the scoring display by his team as well as the goaltending of Richard Brodeur.

In the first period, each team managed 11 shots on goal. The Nordiques led 2-1 at the end of the first, then took command with four goals in the second period, all in the last five minutes.

"The second period was our best in a long time," said

Carr May Not Go Pro

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina State forward Kenny Carr, the Atlantic Coast Conference's leading scorer in the 1976-1977 season, says he will not turn pro unless offered enough money.

Carr, a junior, was a member of the U.S. Olympic basketball team that won the gold medal at Montreal last year. He said he wants to determine how high he would be chosen in the June 10 National Basketball Association draft.

Carr applied for hardship status, making him eligible for the draft, but has until 24 hours before the draft in which to withdraw.

Cherry Grumbling About Recognition

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Boston Bruins' Coach Don Cherry wants to know when someone is going to recognize his team as a darn good hockey club.

Cherry grumbled something about the Bruins being underestimated as he sent them through a practice session for tonight's second game in their best-of-seven semifinal against the Philadelphia Flyers. The Bruins won the first game, 4-3, here Sunday night.

"Look at the Stanley Cup program," said Cherry. "It has a story about the league's rookies and they left out (Mike) Milbury and (Stan) Jonathan. They're playing regular on a first-place club. How do they think we do it, with minors?"

Cherry brushed his hand through his thin hair and added, "Would you believe we have just one All-Star? Cleveland and Washington (two of the league's big losers) have as many."

Cherry warmed to the subject.

"We scored over 300 goals," he said. "Ha! And they say we're defensive specialists. Three hundred goals."

Someone suggested that it all didn't mean anything anyway, since the semifinals merely were battling to see which would lose in the final to Montreal. Montreal leads its best-of-seven semi 1-0 over the New York Islanders.

Flyers' Coach Fred Shero had already said he would start Wayne Stephenson in goal. Shero replaced Stephenson with Parent after two periods Sunday night with the Flyers down 3-0. Philadelphia rallied for three final period goals to send the game into overtime. Boston had just two shots in that final period.

Islanders Eye Upset Tonight

MONTREAL (AP) — The New York Islanders may be down but they certainly cannot be considered out of their National Hockey League best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinal series against the Montreal Canadiens.

The Islanders, who meet the Canadiens tonight in the second game of the series at the Forum, dropped a 4-3 decision to Montreal Saturday night, blowing a 3-1 lead.

"You can't let a club like Montreal come at you," said Islanders' Coach Al Arbour. "You have to go after them. We varied our system in the third period. We stopped hitting and playing our type of game. "You just can't let a club like that freewheel."

Montreal Coach Scotty Bowman expects the Islanders to come out strong again and he wants to make sure his club does the same.

"Their strategy of taking the play to us is no different from any other team," Bowman said. "But if you sit back against a thing like that, you can get yourself into trouble."

"I expect they'll come out and forecheck us. They played the man pretty well. There's an art in playing the man and not getting penalties. The Islanders do it very well."

Bowman said he felt that if the Islanders had been able to escape from the second period with a two-goal lead, they could have had Montreal on the ropes during the final period.

Michigan Gets Regional Site

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Seven regional sites, including one in Michigan, have been selected for the 1977 National Amateur Baseball Federation's finals for 17- and 18-year-olds to be played in Columbus Aug. 47.

The NABF said Thursday the regionals, also double eliminations, would be staged July 29-31 at Brooklyn, Buffalo, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Rochester, Mich., Joliet, Ill., and Birmingham, Ala.

The seven regional champions, plus a Central Ohio host team, will form the nationals field.

"They got us down and we had to open up a bit. They had a lot of good scoring chances in the second period. We weren't playing disciplined hockey."

Bowman said the Islanders did a few things different against his team Saturday night and perhaps would do the same tonight.

"They were throwing men up the middle more than they had before," said Bowman. "As a result, their centers had some excellent scoring chances."

Lakers At Berrien Springs Dam

Steelhead Trout Angling Bonus

Fishermen should find a lot of steelhead in some southwestern Michigan streams when the general trout season opens Saturday.

Tributaries to Lake Michigan and feeder streams to such steelhead rivers as the Galien, St. Joseph, Black and Kalamazoo have more steelhead than usual for this time of year, according to district Department of Natural Resources fisheries biologist Dave Johnson.

But brown trout will again provide the main part of the catch for the midnight opening.

And the success of anglers will again be determined by the weather. Rain later in the week would generally mean fishermen would have limited success because of high and dirty water.

Anglers are also reminded that written permission from landowners is now needed on posted private land under Michigan's new trespass law.

Some of the better trout waters in Berrien county, according to the DNR, are Mill, Blue, Hickory, Pipestone and Brandywine Creeks. Mill was treated a few years back and stocked with brook trout.

In Cass county, there's Dowagiac, Kenzie, Pokagon and Brandywine Creeks. Dowagiac Creek above Whit Pond is another spot which has been chemically treated, with heavy followup plants of brown trout. Also, the DNR is stocking the Dowagiac River down to Summerville.

Top spots in Van Buren county include the Paw Paw River system, especially the headwaters, plus Brush and Pine (Mentha Drain) Creeks. Brush was planted with 4,500 browns last year, but Johnson believes the fish are below the 10-inch minimum legal size and requests anglers not to fish them until mid-summer. Also, the DNR has stopped planting the west branch of the Paw Paw River because it is going to be dredged.

Allegan county fishermen should find trout in Bear, Swan, Barber and Spicebush Creeks, plus the Gun and Rabbit (upper portion) Rivers.

Steelhead are legal year-around on the area's big rivers flowing into Lake Michigan, and the St. Joseph is providing good catches.

Alvin Aldridge, the park ranger at Shamrock Park below the Berrien Springs dam, counted 185 fishermen with 84 steelhead over the weekend. The same anglers also had 11 lake trout, 34 catfish and a brown trout.

The development of the lake trout fishery at the dam is the latest surprise of the spring season, which has also seen unusually good chinook catches and an early arrival of perch out on Lake Michigan.

Strong winds Sunday stopped the Lake Michigan fishery temporarily, but when the weather permits, the big waters are still providing chinook, coho, steelhead, lake trout, brown trout and perch.

B-J's Sports in St. Joseph has noted several six to 10-pound brown trout among the catch of Lake Michigan trollers. And Mollhagen Fisheries in St. Joseph says the rattlespoon is still a favorite bait of trollers.

Very few smelt have shown up. Mollhagen's says one dipper got 15 gallons of smelt last week along St. Joseph's south pier, and the NR has reports of a few smelt being taken off the South Haven pier and along the beach south of Saugatuck.

Dowagiac Browns Water

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three articles on river systems in southwestern Michigan which have good trout fisheries. Today's article by Paul Scheppelman, the Department of Natural Resources' district fisheries manager, is on the Dowagiac River system.

By PAUL SCHEPPELMAN

The Dowagiac River system starts in southern Van Buren county as an outlet from Lake of the Woods. A branch, Dowagiac Creek, has headwaters in northeastern Cass county as a drain system for several lakes in the area.

Both of these streams produce good catches of brown trout, along with their tributaries, as the system flows toward a junction with the St. Joseph River at Niles.

The river contains mostly warmwater species until you get northwest of Dowagiac. By then it has picked up enough cooling water to become a good brown trout stream. But large browns are caught in the vicinity of Summerville and below the dam north of Niles.

The river is big water, so you can fish as you please, and even use a canoe if you like. The major portion of the whole system is through farm country, but there is a belt of trees along

Dowagiac Creek, which joins the river at Dowagiac, has its best fishing from Volina down to Lake LaGrange. The stream is not trout water below Lake LaGrange (Whit Pond).

Heading downstream from Dowagiac, you cross Peavine Creek, a small stream containing a few browns.

At Pokagon you cross an excellent stream named after the community. On the headwaters of Pokagon Creek, and on Kimmerlee Creek, a tributary near Dailey, are some fine spawning grounds for the browns. Its width varies from 10 to 20 feet and the bottom is about 50 per cent gravel. It flows through farms and woodlots and its way to the river at Summerville. There are deep holes requiring waders on the lower section.

There is one more stream that empties in at the Berrien-Cass county line, namely McKenzie Creek. This is a relatively short stream, but it does produce some nice browns. There are good gravel stretches for natural reproduction and enough good holes for fishing.

Hearings Scheduled On Hunter's Stamp

Department of Natural Resources officials expect to raise some $500,000 from the sale of new $1 public access stamps to hunters, which will be used to lease land for hunting in the southern Lower Peninsula.

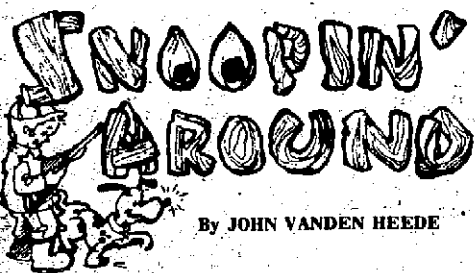

The DNR will launch the new Public Access Stamp Program for southern Michigan hunters, following hearings on rules to carry out the program this week. Leased land will be located below a line extending from about Bay City to Muskegon across the state.

"Although the program is a new concept in Michigan," says George Bruso of the Office of Legislative Services, "the idea of leasing private land for hunting purposes has been tried successfully in several states. It's very similar to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's CAP program, which was discontinued two years ago."

Beginning Sept. 15 this year, Bruso says, every hunter must have a public access stamp to hunt in southern Michigan. In exchange, he'll have thousands of acres more to use for his hunting pleasure. The program rules cover the hunter's obligation to the landowner, which should provide better control of unsportsmanlike actions on private lands, Bruso says.

Proposed rules outline the DNR's obligation to the farmer and responsibilities of the landowners, too. Hearings will be Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., in the State Office Building conference room, corner of Ionia and Michigan Streets, Ionia Street entrance, Grand Rapids; and Friday at 1:30 p.m., in the Law Building Auditorium, Capitol Complex, Lansing.

By JOHN VANDEN HEED

Hybrid walleyes may become an important part of the southwestern Michigan inland lakes fishery within a few years.

Natural reproduction among regular walleyes is minimal in area lakes, and planting efforts with fry hasn't created a walleye fishing boom because survival among the tiny fish is very low.

But there are indications hybrid muskies can produce a good fishery. Experiments by federal and state biologists in Ohio last year show that walleyes can be raised in hatcheries to six-inch fingerlings — a size where survival after planting greatly increases.

The key to the success of the hybrid walleye program is that the fish eat pellets in hatcheries. Generally, walleyes in hatcheries survive only on live food — a diet which is much too expensive for mass production.

Jim Copeland and his staff at Wolf Lake Fish Hatchery in Van Buren county, along with other biologists elsewhere, have been trying to raise pure walleyes on pellets without "encouraging results."

Copeland is so impressed with the hybrid walleye — a cross between a regular walleye and a sauger — that he is after some eggs for experiments at Wolf Lake.

And the discovery of the hybrid could prove to be a timely because Michigan is now renovating its hatchery system to greatly increase production of warmwater species.

About $4 million in improvements are scheduled for Wolf Lake. Work is also slated on the Marquette, Oden, Thompson, Plate River and Harrietta hatcheries.

The overall hatchery renovation program will allow for the production of 180,000 pounds of warmwater fish or approximately two million fingerling walleye, bass, pike, muskies and other species.

Also, coldwater fish production will reach an estimated 800,000 pounds or about 10.5 million yearlings and 3 to 5 million fingerling trout and salmon.

"Substantial increases in warmwater game fish production will be possible through renovation — a 10-fold increase, in fact," says Department of Natural Resources fisheries chief John Scott. "This will be felt chiefly in production of walleye fingerlings for our inland lakes, streams and Great Lakes bays."

"Muskelunge fishing can easily be doubled, but we plan to move slowly with expansion because of the obvious impact this fish has on associated species."

Copeland says under the new system — which should become operational in 1980 or 81 — walleyes would be raised to six inches before being released. Northern pike would be six to nine inches and muskies seven to eight inches.

More Pine Tree Damage

More pine trees than usual show signs of damage from the hard Michigan winter, say state foresters, but most of the brown, dead-looking conifers will survive.

The Department of Natural Resources Forestry Division has received a record number of calls from residents concerned about the trees during the first days of spring.

"The damage stems from three basic causes," says forester Dan Mosher, "they are road salt, winter drying and winter browning."

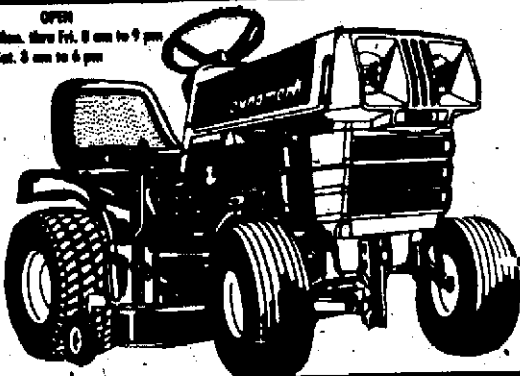

"During the winter, moisture escapes through the pine needles, and the roots need more water to keep the process going. Winter drying damage probably is the result of deeper ground freeze this year cutting off the supply of water for a longer period of time. Winter browning is caused by rapid drops in air temperature."

Most of the damaged trees should begin to grow new shoots by the end of May and the first part of June, says Mosher. By mid-summer, the browned branches will be scarcely evident.

"Don't plant white and red pinus next to busy roadways," he suggests, "since they are especially susceptible to road salt. Austrian pines are more resistant to the salty spray."

Seventeen State Parks Have 'No Alcohol' Rule

Several state parks are "dry," the Department of Natural Resources reports. Not from drought conditions, but because of a ban on all alcoholic beverages.

The DNR has established a "no alcohol" rule at 17 state parks and recreation areas in an effort to better control expected large numbers of visitors this summer.

"The 'no alcohol' rule provides our best chance to prevent rowdiness and to control the large numbers of visitors we expect in these areas this year," says Parks chief Jack Butterfield. "Drinking by visitors in crowded areas has caused us some serious problems in the past."

The ban is already in effect on a year-round basis at the following state parks: Dodge No. 4, Oakland county; Hoffmeister, south of Muskegon; Holland, Ottawa county; Warren Dunes (except campground), Berrien county, and Brighton (off-road vehicle area only), Livingston county.

Alcoholic beverages are prohibited through June 15 at Hayes State Park near Onsted, Ludington, Mears at Pentwater, Muskegon (Lake Michigan campgrounds only), and South Higgins Lake State Park. The alcohol ban runs through June 23 at Rochester-Utica Recreation Area; through July 15 at Bald Mountain Recreation Area-Trout Lake Unit, Oakland county, and Holly Recreation Area-Heron-Wildwood Unit, and through Labor Day at Grand Haven State Park; Island Lake Recreation Area-Island Lake Unit, near Brighton; Silver Lake near Mears; and Pinckney Recreation Area (beach and picnic areas at Silver Lake and Halfmoon Lake), Livingston county.

Recent warm weather, and rain have brought out mushrooms in southwestern Michigan. The Department of Natural Resources says state game areas and the south sides of hills make good searching places.

Illinois Says GM Offer Not Enough

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp., swamped by consumer complaints and mounting legal actions over the use of Chevrolet engines in other GM cars, has worked out a settlement to appease disgruntled owners.

But the attorney general for Illinois, the state where the whole engine flap started, says GM's offer does not go far enough.

Under the GM plan, an owner of a new 1977 Buick, Oldsmobile or Pontiac with a Chevy engine may trade that car for a brand-new 1977 model, but must pay eight cents for each mile he drove the original car. Or, the owner may keep the car and get a 36,000-mile, 36-month engine warranty.

Elliott M. Estes, president of the No. 1 automaker, said Monday GM was making the offer to "assure customer satisfaction." But Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Scott, while saying the plan was a step in the right direction, said it allows dealers to make thousands of dollars and still shortchange consumers.

Scott is one of 10 state attorneys general to file suit against GM over the engine switch. The GM offer is patterned after an agreement announced earlier Monday by New York Atty. Gen. Louis Lefkowitz.

Other suits are pending in Rhode Island, Kentucky, Florida, Alabama, Connecticut, Texas, North Carolina and Louisiana.

Scott released correspondence from J.F. Mattox, GM general sales manager, to Oldsmobile dealers. It said that for each car a dealer replaces under the plan, the dealer would be given "an allowance of $300."

Scott said that instead of giving the money to a dealer who "kept his mouth shut" about Chevy engines, GM should rebate the money to the victimized buyers.

Scott said he would continue to seek fines from the car manufacturer and its dealers and intended to ask a U.S. District Court judge to require GM to make adjustments without cost to the purchasers.

The problem began two months ago when a Chicago man found his Olds Delta 88 came with a 350-cubic-inch V8 Chevy engine instead of the widely advertised Olds "Rocket."

GM said the offer of either a new vehicle or special warranty is good on compact, intermediate and full-size Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs delivered to customers on or before April 1. The offer expires June 1, GM said.

Under the policy, a customer can:

—Return his car to the dealer for a credit toward the purchase of another 1977 car of the same make with whatever engine is then available on the model selected.

The credit will be for the original purchase price — excluding registration, licensing or sales tax — less the mileage charge. A charge for removal of any equipment or damage beyond normal wear and tear also would be deducted.

—Or, the owner can keep his vehicle and GM will provide free of charge a warranty covering the engine, transmission and rear axle for 36 months or 36,000 miles, whichever comes first. Normally, those parts are covered by a 12-month, 12,000-mile warranty.

Estes said GM has not admitted any violation of law and "has no desire in making these proposals to interfere in any way in the suits which have been filed in recent weeks."

But he added, "We believe that when all the facts are presented we will prevail in the courts."

Besides suits filed by state attorneys general, pending against GM are 17 individual or class action suits filed by private attorneys.

GM said it is still putting Chevy engines into cars made by its other divisions, and has no plans to discontinue the practice.

However, to alleviate any customer confusion, the firm said, large showroom posters have been sent to dealers to show which engine the cars contain.

GM's divisions have been sharing engines and other components for years, primarily because of the cost savings involved. The company has defended the practice, saying it holds down prices to customers and all its engines carry the "GM Mark of Excellence."

However, that policy position is at variance with years of mass advertising which has highlighted superficial differences between GM cars rather than stressing the basic products' interchangeability.

GM advertising has established the Pontiac as a cut above the Chevy, the Buick and Olds as a bit more prestigious than the Pontiac, and the Cadillac as the ultimate in personal transportation.

Yet, a full-size Chevy is built on the same assembly line as a full-size Pontiac, Olds or Buick. Without the special exterior trim features that are added at the end of the line, all the cars look the same.

Until the engine switch problem, consumers didn't question the extent to which GM's divisions share components, and the automaker didn't bother to point it out.

After the original engine complaint, GM said the Chevy and Olds engines were "comparable." But they are not identical. The Olds version carries the same price and horsepower rating, but has a different torque, compression ratio, bore and stroke than the Chevy engine. The Olds power plant also has a one mile per gallon better fuel mileage rating.

In addition to the use of Chevy engines in other GM division cars, Olds and Pontiac engines are used in Buicks, a Buick V8 is used in Pontiacs and Olds, and a modified Olds engine is used in Cadillacs.

However, a GM spokesman said the exchange or extended warranty offer is limited to non-Chevy cars with Chevy engines. He added that the firm had no plans to make a similar offer to cover any other engine switches.

Paw Paw Going After 'Step Two' Sewer Grant

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — The Paw Paw village council last night gave its engineering firm permission to proceed with an application for a Step 2 (design) grant for an area wastewater treatment system.

The design grant is the second step in a three step process which could eventually lead to a $5 million sewer system in parts of the village, and Paw Paw and Waverly townships.

According to James Mshar of the Grand Rapids engineering firm of Williams and Works, the first step, a facilities plan, is nearly complete. Originally, the proposed system also included parts of Antwerp township, and was expected to cost about $9 million.

But Mshar said the scope of the project has now been whittled down so that it includes about 500 homes, about 480 in the village and Paw Paw township and the remainder in southern Waverly township.

Areas in the village that are included are the Cook subdivision; the area immediately south of the Decker subdivision; and the area in the immediate vicinity of Lake View Community hospital.

Under the present federal program, which expires in October, up to 65 per cent of the wastewater treatment costs are grant eligible. Mshar said that since the Paw Paw area system plans won't meet the October deadline, any work will hinge on Congress renewing the funding.

If the design grant is approved, the next step would be a grant for actual construction. Mshar indicated that work probably could not begin until the fall of 1978.

The cost to an individual homeowner of bringing the sewer to his property line is expected to be under $2,500, the engineer said.

In other areas, Al Krause, a resident of the Rumsey Manor subdivision, appeared before the council to complain about drainage problems on Charles street. Krause claimed that builder Dalton Rumsey, who is a council member, had failed to live up to a promise he made last October to do additional filling and grading work along the street.

Rumsey replied that if he did the work as Krause requested, the net effect would be to only shift water to the center of the street. He however agreed to meet with Krause to resolve any differences.

The council also agreed to enter into a contract with Michigan Power company which will have the net effect of raising the rates the utility charges the village for electricity by 73 per cent. The increase, which was granted by the federal Power Commission, had basically been in effect since last November. Last night's contract was primarily only a formalization of the agreement.

At the same time, the state claims it is besieged with requests for funding for senior citizens project, but none for family.

"We are punished for the inaction of other communities," said housing executive director Dennis DeVinney.

The commission decided to seek another meeting at a higher level of the state agency to appeal the decision.

In other action, the commission accepted the lone bid of $3,518 from Triangle Sheet Metal, Inc. of South Haven to upgrade ventilation equipment at the Harbor View apartment building.

The commission received permission from the department of housing and urban development (HUD) to install new combination screen-storm windows on the family housing units.

Ex-Lawmaker Needs Boss In New Job

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A former lawmaker has been given a $13,000-a-year job with the legislature — but apparently another employee will still have to be hired to supervise him. Former Rep. Michael Novak of Detroit, who was defeated in his bid for re-election last year, has been employed by the legislative retirement fund. William Baird, who headed the fund for 12 years, quit when he learned he was about to be dismissed for unrelated reasons. Novak, however, will be assistant director of the fund, and another person must yet be hired to take Baird's job, according to lawmakers. Novak, 60, served 32 years in the House and is eligible to draw an $11,400-a-year pension. The legislative retirement system is financed by a 4 per cent contribution from lawmakers plus about $400,000 from the general fund and a similar amount from court fees.

Drug Suit Asks For $77 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three mothers, including a former congresswoman, are charging in a $77 million lawsuit that they unwittingly were given an experimental drug 23 years ago that later was linked to cancer in children.

The three say they were among more than 1,000 maternity patients who received the drug DES without their knowledge at the University of Chicago Lying-In Hospital in 1951 and 1952.

Patsy Mink, now assistant secretary of state for oceans and international environmental affairs, and two other women filed the suit Monday in U.S. District Court in Chicago against the university and Eli Lilly & Co., of Indianapolis, the maker of the drug the hospital used.

The class-action suit asks $70,000 for each of the 1,061 women who were given DES and another $2 million in punitive damages.

The two other women joining in the suit were Phyllis S. Wetherill, of Washington, and Gladys E. Lang, of Stonybrook, N.Y.

Mrs. Mink, a former Democratic congresswoman from Hawaii, said she was taking part in the suit because "the matter is of such serious proportion that it had to be resolved for the entire group."

The suit claims that another group of 1,061 pregnant women received placebos in an experiment that lasted 20 months to test whether DES could prevent miscarriages.

Research in recent years has found links between DES and rare vaginal and cervical cancers in the daughters of women who received the drug during pregnancy. The drug also has been tied to sterility and other abnormalities in the sons of some of the women.

The Food and Drug Administration told manufacturers in 1971 to stop making DES and to halt advertising that claimed it would prevent miscarriages. Many physicians also recommend that daughters of women who were administered the drug have checkups twice a year.

The plaintiffs, represented by the Ralph Nader-affiliated Health Research Group, said the university notified them in 1975 and 1976 of the experiment and urged their daughters to have checkups. The suit said Lilly did not notify any of the three women.

A spokesman for the University of Chicago said the hospital halted use of the drug and advised other physicians to do the same as a result of the experiment.

Buying In Record Numbers

DETROIT (AP) — Americans purchased new domestic cars in record numbers during mid-April — just before President Carter released his energy program — breaking a 12-year-old sales mark for the period. The nation's four major automakers reported Monday that their dealers sold 289,519 cars at retail in nine selling days during the April 11-20 span — a daily rate of 32,169 cars. That was up 3 per cent from the 31,180 rate established in the same period last year, when 249,441 cars were sold in eight days, and topped the old mark of 31,854 cars set in mid-April 1965.

NOTICE TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF ST. JOSEPH AND POTENTIAL USERS OF THE CITY'S PROPOSED MARINA OF NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE MARINA REVENUE BONDS PAYABLE PRIMARILY FROM THE REVENUES OF SAID SYSTEM AND SECURED BY THE CITY'S TAXING POWER AND THE RIGHT OF REFERENDUM RELATING THERETO

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the City Commission of the City of St. Joseph intends to authorize the issuance and sale of Marina Revenue Bonds pursuant to Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, in the principal amount of not to exceed in total Two Hundred Fifty Thousand ($250,000.00) Dollars, for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring and constructing the Morrison Channel Marina.

Said bonds will mature in annual installments not to exceed twenty (20) in number, with interest rates to be determined at public sale but in no event to exceed eight per cent (8%) on the unpaid balance from time to time remaining outstanding on said bonds.

SOURCE OR PAYMENT OF REVENUE BONDS

THE PRINCIPAL OF AND INTEREST ON SAID REVENUE BONDS shall be payable primarily from the net revenues derived from the operation of the Morrison Channel Marina. Said revenues consist of rates and charges for services supplied by the system which may from time to time be increased in order to provide sufficient revenues to meet expenses of operating and maintaining said system and to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds and to provide reserves therefor. A schedule of said rates and charges is on file in the office of the City Clerk.

THE BONDS WILL ALSO BE SECURED BY A PLEDGE OF THE CITY'S TAXING POWER WHICH MEANS IF THE SYSTEM'S REVENUES ARE INSUFFICIENT FOR THE ABOVE DESCRIBED PURPOSES THE CITY SHALL LEVY AD VALOREM TAXES, WITHOUT LIMITATION AS TO RATE OR AMOUNT, BUT ONLY IN AN AMOUNT SUFFICIENT TO MEET THE EXPENSES OF OPERATING AND MAINTAINING THE SYSTEM AND TO PAY THE PRINCIPAL OF AND INTEREST ON THE BONDS.

RIGHT OF REFERENDUM

THE REVENUE BONDS will be issued without vote of the electors unless a petition signed by not less than 10% of the registered electors of the City is filed with the City Clerk within forty-five (45) days after publication of this Notice. If such a petition is filed, the bonds may not be issued unless approved by a majority vote of the electors of the City voting on the question of their issuance.

THIS NOTICE is given pursuant to the requirements of Section 33 of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended.

Carter Brewing Foreign Policy

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — In his first 100 days, Jimmy Carter made his crusade "to shape a world responsive to human aspirations" a hallmark of American foreign policy.

A newcomer to the international scene, the President also set an unusually public style of diplomacy, telling the people more than they are accustomed to hearing about U.S. objectives, while upsetting tradithe reality that only a tiny fraction of the 2,500 Americans missing in Indochina will ever be accounted for. And he authorized maritime talks with Havana despite Cuba's venturist behavior in Africa.

Withholding U.S. aid in order to coax other countries to relent in their violations of human rights. Three recipients, Argentina, Ethiopia and Uruguay, were cut and three others, Brazil, El Salvador and Guatemala, gave up American assistance to protest what they considered to be an intrusion into their domestic affairs.

Philosophically, Carter's concern for human rights reflected overriding American sentiment. It would be hard to find anyone to quarrel with the thoughts he expressed in a letter to Soviet dissident Andrei D. Sakharov in February.

"You may rest assured," Carter wrote, "that the American people and our government will continue our firm commitment to promote respect for human rights not only in our country but also abroad."

Still, there were obvious inconsistencies in the implementation of Carter's human rights crusade. And righteousness does not guarantee results.

The democracies on the U.S. military aid list are few, just as there are few of them in the world. On the other hand, some of the most repressive regimes, such as South Korea, the Philippines and Nicaragua, are being helped.

Moreover, the administration did not support a congressional resolution that directed the American delegate to multinational development banks to vote against aid to countries regularly violating human rights. A softer, nonbinding approach was endorsed instead.

Carter keyed his campaign primarily to the Soviet Union. And yet, there was no easing of the Russian crackdown on dissidents. Jewish emigration did not pick up.

The President also spoke out about conditions in South Korea, Cuba and other Latin-American countries. And he declared that events in Uganda "disgusted the entire civilized world."

The Russians took the criticism most personally.

But Carter, on the fact of it at least, was unimpressed. He said he would not modify his human rights stands, declaring "they are consistent with the conscience of this country."

nationalists who say he is complicating negotiations.

America's claim "to teach others how to live cannot be accepted," Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev admonished the former one-term governor of Georgia.

But Carter said he saw no reason for getting upset "every time Brezhnev sneezes."

He offered the Russians terms for a nuclear weapons agreement that would have a devastating impact on future Soviet ICBM capabilities. When Moscow turned him down Carter told congressional leaders he would "hang tough."

New to world affairs, Carter confessed on occasion that he had a lot to learn. But he operated during his break-in period with a confidence and freshness that could produce some major changes in American policy if he stays on course.

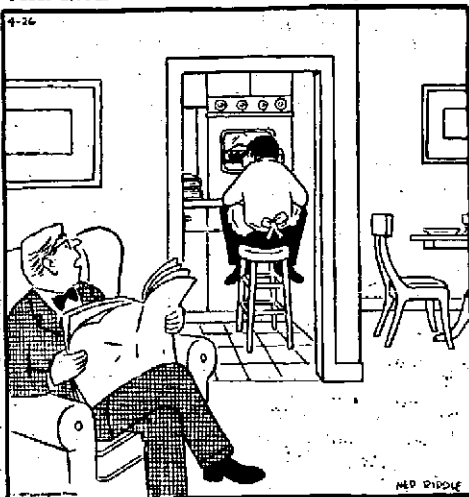

These would include:
—A nuclear weapons agreement with the Russians that not only slows the arms race but makes drastic reductions in existing arsenals. At the same time, Carter appears to be conditioning the American people to accept disarmament as a goal.

—Unprecedented recognition of the Palestinians. Already, Carter is the first American president to publicly endorse a "homeland" for them, which would be carved out of land held by Israel, as well as representation for Palestinians interests at a Geneva peace conference.

—Relations with Vietnam and Cuba, two old Communist adversaries. Carter has accepted

Carter's Proposed Hospital Bill Lid Facing Hot Debate

By MIKE DOAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading members of Congress promise to move quickly on President Carter's plan to hold down hospital costs, but a heated debate is expected in both the House and Senate.

In a message Monday to Congress, Carter proposed that total increases in hospital bills be limited to about 9 per cent a year at most facilities. Hospital costs have been going up about 15 per cent a year, twice the national inflation rate.

The legislation would limit reimbursements to hospitals from all sources: Medicare, Medicaid, Blue Cross, commercial insurance and individuals.

Carter said the plan could save the public, the government and health insurance companies

$2 billion the first year and $5.5 billion in 1980.

Past attempts to put a 9 per cent lid on increases in Medicare and Medicaid payments for hospital care have failed amid heavy opposition from hospitals and medical associations.

Carter wants to go a step further in limiting the prices private health insurance companies and individuals would have to pay.

Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Md., and Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., said they will co-sponsor Carter's bill in the House. Their health subcommittees will hold joint hearings May 11 to 13.

Rogers said Monday night he may want to add a section to reward hospitals for finding ways to cut costs.

"It's quite possible the committee might want to modify the bill somewhat," said Rogers. He said he expects a lot of debate because "there is great concern in the medical field. But everyone agrees something must be done."

The bill will be handled in the Senate by health subcommittees headed by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Herman Talmadge, D-Ga.

Kennedy was introducing the legislation today, but Talmadge has already introduced his own bill.

Talmadge is proposing limits only on Medicare and Medicaid payments, and they would vary according to region. His plan would go into effect in two years.

Committee aides said Talmadge and Kennedy will act quickly by holding joint hearings on the bill right after the House has finished work on it. But aides said some solid opposition is expected in both houses, particularly over the inclusion of private health plans.

Rep. Tim Lee Carter, R-Ky., ranking Republican on Rogers' subcommittee, says it will be difficult for hospitals to limit their increases to 9 per cent because their expenses are rising too.

He said that 18 per cent of the patients at some hospitals cannot pay their bills, and hospitals might start turning these people away.

Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., chairman of the House Aging Committee, called Carter's program "a highly commendable act" and said it has a good chance in Congress.

But he said he was worried that hospitals might try to make up for their lost revenue by reducing services or increasing charges to some patients.

Hartford To Seek Bidding On Sewer

HARTFORD — The Hartford city council last night instructed the city's engineering firm to seek bids on the city's proposed $1,800,700 sanitary sewer improvement project.

The bids are expected to be opened the first week of June, but awarding of a contract would be contingent on receipt of expected federal and state grants.

Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph, previously reported the city's share of the cost would be $407,900, with the balance to come from the federal and state sources. No decision has been made yet on how the local costs would be paid.

Thomas Deneau of the firm said approval for the project was still needed from the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), along with a 10-foot wide, one-quarter mile easement over property owned by Robert Morris on CR-372.

EPA action is expected next month. The council had previously approved a facilities plan for the project.

Involved in the project would be construction of a new treatment plant and new main sewer lines.

In other areas, Charles Lindblom of the engineering firm presented preliminary plans for converting the former A&P store on Main street into the city hall at an estimated cost of $60,000. The plans were referred to the council's general administrative committee for study.

It was announced that construction of 25,000 linear feet of new sidewalk and replacement of 17,000 linear feet of existing sidewalks were expected to start May 5. The mayor and clerk were instructed to sign the formal contract for the work with the Heckman Construction Co., Allegan. The firm's low bid of $214,370 was accepted by the council April 11.

The council has been awarded a $294,000 federal public works employment grant to finance the project.

Three housing rehabilitation grants were approved by the council. The grants were approved for: Mrs. Etta Mae Brumley, 134 Washington avenue, $3,300; Margaret Drake, 519 East Linden, $4,500; and Mrs. Rachel Shuganah, owner of Prospect and Marion avenue, $6,000. So far 10 such grants have been approved under the community rehabilitation program.

Mayor Wayne Nelson said he had been informed that Du-Wel Metal Products will be seeking a tax exemption certificate for a proposed expansion of its Hartford plant in the near future.

It was announced that Victor Bunce had resigned from the police department, effective April 12, to return to school to study law. He had been a detective sergeant.

CIA Director Adm. Stansfield Turner told a congressional hearing Monday the agency's report draws on intelligence information on world reserves — especially in the Soviet Union — not available to other energy forecasters.

CIA Baring Oil Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's spy agency, drawn into a congressional debate on energy because of its detailed knowledge about Russian oil wells, is declassifying some of the intelligence it gathered about the Soviet Union.

The board noted in a news release, that despite the differences between it and Mrs. Tapper, under her administration, 90 per cent of the cases had a successful outcome.

Van Buren Judge Sends 2 To Prison

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A 22-year-old South Haven man was sentenced Monday in Van Buren circuit court to serve from 14 months to two years in prison in connection with the theft of a television set from a South Haven township mobile home last Nov. 20.

Sentenced by Judge Meyer Warshawsky was Maurice Greer, who had pleaded guilty earlier to a charge of attempted larceny in a building.

Also sentenced yesterday, as a result of earlier guilty pleas were:

Billy Lorenzo Hall, 16, Kalamazoo, from two to 10 years in prison, with 267 days credit, on a reduced charge of larceny from a person, Hall, who had been waived from juvenile court to stand trial as an adult, was originally charged with the armed robbery and kidnapping of two attendants from a Paw Paw gas station on Jan. 26, 1976.

Romney Pushes 'Town Meeting'

DETROIT (AP) — Former Gov. George Romney is urging Michigan citizens to get involved in his "Town Meeting" project. He told a news conference that so far some 60 communities, most of them outside Detroit, have established the day-long meetings to coincide with Michigan week, May 14-23, to talk over problems. Representatives from each meeting will meet June 4 in Lansing to discuss their meetings and present a statement to the legislature.

Father Is Jailed For Payless Year

A Benton township man was sentenced to 60 days in jail after going a full year without making child support payments.

Judge Julian E. Hughes held Chester Dossett, of 1232 Highland avenue, in contempt of court and imposed the jail term for $936 arrears for two ADC children.

Dossett was also sentenced to two years probation and ordered to pay $18 weekly support plus $5 per week towards the arrearage. According to the Berrien friend of the court's office, Dossett's last support payment was made April 21, 1976.

Also held in contempt of court and placed on two years probation, according to Special Investigator Joseph Beckmann of the friend of the court's office, were:

Wayne Flickenger, of South Haven, for $1,722 arrears for one child not on ADC. He paid $200 towards the arrearage, was told to find work in 30 days and sign a wage assignment of $25 weekly support and $5 weekly on the arrears.

Cornelius M. Moran, of US-33 North, Hagar township, for $685 arrears for three children not on ADC. Moran paid $60 towards the arrearage and was ordered to pay $24 weekly support and $6 per week towards the arrearage.

Leonas Macevicius, of 524 Hickory street, Niles, for $1,410 arrears for four children not on ADC. He was told to pay $30 per week support and $5 weekly towards the arrears.

Ronald Kassak, of Union Pier, for $1,508 arrears for one ADC child. Hughes ordered Kassak to pay $29 support per week plus $5 each week on the arrearage.

Thomas Cobb, of 779 North Watervliet road, Watervliet, for $1,967 arrears for two children on ADC. Cobb paid $200 towards the arrearage and was ordered to sign a wage assignment of $15 weekly support and $10 weekly on the arrears.

Marlin Goins, of Cassopolis, for $1,788 arrears for one ADC child. Hughes ordered him to sign a wage assignment of $25 weekly support plus $5 per week towards the arrearage.

Pipestone Okays Study On Sewer

EAU CLAIRE — The Pipestone township board last night approved giving the Berrien county Board of Public Works (BPW) the go ahead to study the possibility of expanding the Eau Claire village sewer system into the township. The immediate area being considered for possible sewer expansion, according to Robert Barnes, BPW director, is an area in the township adjacent to the village's eastern limits.

In other areas, the board approved spending $1,000 of its revenue sharing money this year for the Eau Claire public library. The board granted a $300 donation to the Berrien county Metro Narcotics squad, which had requested $500. Other donations approved last night were: American Legion, $100; Eau Claire Little League, $500; Eau Claire library, $2,500; Zion cemetery, $300; and the central county senior citizens center, $500.

Skateboarders May Have Had Revenge

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Both Andrews University officials and police here believe break-ins over the weekend at the university bookstore are related to removal of a ramp used for skateboarding next to the bookstore. Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police said a message spray painted on carpeting in front of the bookstore safe said "now we got our ramp back." Nearly $3,500 was reported missing from the safe in a break-in discovered Monday morning.

About $1,800 in merchandise was stolen from the bookstore in a break-in discovered Sunday morning.

University officials last week tore down a long cement loading ramp which had been used for skateboarding. Officials cited concerns over safety and liability. Youngsters had also used a portable wooden ramp in conjunction with the cement ramp for skateboarding. Police reported "it is possible suspects might be high school students upset over (removal) of the ramp next to the store." A university spokesman, Ray Minner, said officials believe "revenge" was involved.

Berrien Springs Budgets $440,961

BERRIEN SPRINGS — At a special budget hearing last night, the Berrien Springs village council unveiled a proposed 1977-78 budget of $440,961, up $73,343 from the 1976-77 budget of $367,618.

The council will vote on budget adoption at its May 16 meeting. The budget is for a fiscal year that began April 1.

Much of the increase is for salary and fringe increases proposed for the village's 11 employees.

Village President Edgar Kesterke said the budget is based on an operating millage rate of 14.7 mills which is expected to generate some $146,000. The millage rate is the same as last year's.

For its employees, the council has proposed $63,395 in salaries and fringe benefits, up $20,101 from the 1976-77 budget. The increase is due mostly to employee requests for a raise of 50 cents hourly, a yearly longevity bonus ranging from $50 to $530, a C-1 level pension plan that would provide about $500 in increased retirement benefits to each employee, and uniform rental for all male employees.

The council voted to study employee proposals and make a decision by the May 16 meeting.

township police department. That is an increase of $1,000 over the 1976-77 appropriation.

The Greater Berrien Springs Parks and Recreation board was slated to get $5,800 ($800 more than last year); the Central County Senior Citizens center operating expenses, $1,300, (same as last year); and the fire department, $10,300 (up $356 from 1976-77).

Increases are also shown in virtually every other item in the proposed budget.

The council allocated federal revenue sharing funds in the amount of $6,193 to the parks improvement fund, and $5,000 for the senior citizens building fund.

Van Buren Bureau Has New Director

PAW PAW — The new director of Van Buren county's Youth Services Bureau said yesterday his top priority will be expanding volunteer programs.

Douglas H. Worgul of Kalamazoo began his first day in the $10,000-a-year position yesterday. He said he hopes to expand a volunteer program which uses adults to act as "big brothers and sisters" to young people who have or are likely to come into contact with the law.

The agency, which maintains offices in the Village Green Professional Center here, also offers individual counseling to young people.

Worgul replaces Sheryl Daines Tapper, who was fired by the Youth Services board in a disagreement over the administration and goals of the program.

The board noted in a news release, that despite the differences between it and Mrs. Tapper, under her administration, 90 per cent of the cases had a successful outcome.

Worgul, 23, is currently finishing work on a master's degree in the teaching of reading at Western Michigan university. He and his wife, Carol, live in Kalamazoo.

Social Security Number Needed

Students and other people planning to get summer jobs should apply without delay for a Social Security number if they don't already have one, according to Harry Gelander, manager of the Benton Harbor district Social Security office.

"Some employers won't hire you unless you have a Social Security number," Gelander said. "Delaying your application might prevent you from being hired or cause you to lose time and money."

Warm Welcome?

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — Despite some suspicion that he may be among the New Yorkers opposed to the supersonic Concorde jet, former mayor John Lindsay is being welcomed to Scotland. Lindsay, now a lawyer and television commentator, is planning to attend an international gathering here of the Lindsay clan next month.

"You should apply for your Social Security number at least several weeks before you need it for a job," Gelander noted.

"When you don't recall having had a Social Security number before, your application is screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure a second number isn't issued to you. And screening takes time. Your Social Security number is yours alone and earnings are credited to your number. You build disability, survivors, retirement, and Medicare protection by work and earnings credited to your Social Security number."

The Benton Harbor area Social Security office is at Fairplain Plaza under Goldblatt's.

ON SCREEN AND OFF Dick Pryor's A Howl

By JAY SHARBUITT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard Pryor, the comic, actor and writer, has a comedy show coming up on NBC on May 5 — "The Richard Pryor Special?" the question mark led to a question of how the show came to be.

"Trial and error," Pryor explained in an interview on the porch just outside the NBC commissary. Over the distracting gagging and choking of the lunch crowd, he elucidated.

"Burt Sugarman called me up one day and wanted to sell me one of his cars, which cost $380,000. I said, 'I can't afford that kind of money.'"

Sugarman, executive producer of the show, was seated next to Pryor. He commenced chortling, indicating the possibility Pryor was off on a flight of comic fancy.

"He broke it down for me," Pryor continued. "He told me if I work hard, I might be able to afford his automobile. And I really want this car bad. That's how the special came about."

He was asked if he got the car in advance.

"No, but they will free my mother if the show is good," he said. "She's currently down in the basement at NBC."

If the show gets bad ratings, what happens with the car?

"Well," mused Pryor, "it's going to be tough for Mom, let's put it that way."

Pryor, who got industrial strength raves for his acting in "Blazing Saddles" and "Silver Streak," is reputed to have, well, a weird mind.

For example, in his coming special, he will depict Gen. Idi

Amin of Uganda making a rebuttal to an NBC editorial.

And it is said that early in his career, he did his standup comedy routine one night crouched beneath a piano. His version:

"I wasn't doing so good, so I just got under the piano and hid from the audience."

He was asked how the night club audience reacted. And said:

"I don't know. Some guy started playing the piano."

Pryor, holder of a 1973 Emmy award for writing a Lily Tomlin special, served as head writer on his coming show, cowritten by Bob Ellison, Rocco Urbisci, Alan Thicke and Paul Mooney.

He was asked if he has other writing projects in the works.

"Yes," he said. "I wrote a letter to the IRS, let 'em know the money will be on time." Any answer yet? "No, they're waiting until April's over. And then they're going to respond. In kind."

Pryor went serious all of a sudden to praise, with nothing held back, all those who helped him put his show together. He gave a quick grin when asked if a new movie is in store for him.

"Yes, I'm going to do a ski movie," said the 36-year-old ex-paratrooper from Peoria, Ill. "I'll play Clint Eastwood. I'm going to be the man who skied down the Bank of America."

Oklahoma City Students Can Dial Homework Help

By BRYAN MILLER
Associated Press Writer
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Some students here are spending a lot of time on the telephone weeknights — and their parents love it.

Ma Bell, which already serves as surrogate minister (Dial-a-Prayer), jester (Dial-a-Joke), botanist (Dial-a-Plant), and a variety of other functions, now helps fulfill another need: homework help.

Sponsored by the University Heights Branch YWCA, the "Homework Helpline" assists students who are struggling with Shakespeare, grappling with geometry or toiling through trigonometry.

Monday through Thursday, from 8:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., students from grades one through 12 can call a telephone number and talk to an operator who listens to their questions. The student then hangs up, and the operator telephones a volunteer on call who has knowledge of the subject. The volunteer then calls the student at home.

"It's an amazingly simple concept," says Chris Connell, director of the YWCA branch. The helpline has been open for about two months, and although the volume of calls has been sporadic — averaging six a night — Miss Connell is ringing with enthusiasm.

"Take, for instance, the night a boy called and said he was doing a biology project," she recalls, sitting in her bright yellow, poster-covered office. "He asked me, 'What happens when a frog hibernates?' I had no idea, but I found a teacher at Central State College who called him back. The boy called me later and said, 'Wow, thanks! I think I'm gonna get an A.' Now that really makes me feel good."

Miss Connell emphasizes that the helpline is not an "instant answer line" for kids who could look up information themselves.

"We don't simply give out answers," she says. "The idea is that if a student can conceptualize his problem and verbalize it to someone else, that's part of the logical problem-solving process. We often throw the ball back at him and say, 'How would you go about finding the answer?'"

More than half the calls come from elementary school pupils, Miss Connell says, and the rest are from high schoolers and even some college students. "We don't advertise for college students, and when they call we try to sign them up as volunteers," she adds.

Reactions from parents and teachers have been enthusiastic. "We had one little girl call three nights in a row," Miss Connell recalls. "And the fourth night her mother called and said: 'Thank God you're here.'"

If a student calls repeatedly with problems, Miss Connell calls the child's parents to talk about possible tutorial help. Most of the requests involve math and science. Have they ever been stumped? "Not yet," Miss Connell laughs. "But sometimes I've had to call people who are not volunteers in the program, but we always manage to find someone who knows."

Music Group Cuts Album; Plans Tour

Carl Peek and the Echoes, a country and western group that has played at Berrien county clubs for the past three years, recently cut its first record album and will soon go on tour, according to Bob Cockerel, of Benton Harbor, the group's manager.

Carl and Everett Peek, brothers from Stevensville, Dennis Butler, of Benton Harbor, and Dennis Fast, of Berrien Springs, make up the group, Cockerel said. Their album, "Carl Peek and the Echoes," was made at Gusto Studios, Nashville, Tenn., and will be available next week, said Cockerel.

The group will tour the mid-west and southwest, Cockerel said.

Stocks Turn Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today, leveling off at its lowest level of the year.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose nearly a point in early trading.

But losers took a 4-3 lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts noted some cautious buying after a steep drop in stock prices over the past three sessions.

Today's early prices included S.S. Kresge, up 1/4 at 28 1/2; International Telephone & Telegraph, unchanged at 33; Southern Co., off 1/4 at 16; and Schlumberger, down 1/2 at 60.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average fell 12.47 to 914.60 for its largest loss since it gave up 17.37 last Nov. 5.

It was the lowest close for the Dow since it finished at 912.94 on Jan. 13, 1976.

Losers swamped gainers by a 4-1 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume came to 29.4 million shares, against 20.7 million on Friday.

The NYSE's composite index lost .69 to 53 even.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gave up .90 to 110.85.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

There's No 'Sure' Hedge On Inflation

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. One of your columns carried a heading: "Bonds Won't Build Inflation Hedge." Maybe not, but they will provide a good return. And how do we know that common shares will help offset inflation by increasing in value? The future may not be as "rosy" as you think.

A. 1) No one has ever called me "Smilin' Sam," and I've never made a "rosy" prediction.

2) Bonds do provide a good return.

3) Common stocks may not increase in value. There is no law which says they must.

4) A Treasury bond, or a triple-A corporate bond is a "sure" thing source of fixed-dollar income; a common share is a hope.

From there you are on your own.

Q. I have $15,000 in a bank earning 5 1/2 per cent. How can I earn 8 to 9 1/2 per cent?

A. There are scores of AA rated corporate bonds yielding 8 to 8 1/2 per cent. Switching your funds into a bond would mean giving up the dollar-fixed deposit for a security which can be sold at any time, but at fluctuating prices determined by changing interest rates.

Q. In a recent article a reader who had bought some A.T.&T. 2 1/2 per cent bonds of 1986 declared he was getting 12 per cent on his money, owing to a climb in price. It seems to me that he is mixing yield and capital gain. If he paid 60 1/2 for a 2 1/2 coupon he will always get about 4.35 per cent regardless of market price.

A. You are correct — in part. His boast of getting a 12 per cent return was a "hash" of current return plus a short spurt in market price. It won't stand up. When he paid 60 1/2 his current yield was, as you say, 4.35 per cent.

However, that doesn't mean that a discount bond's yield should ignore the rise to maturity. That is a part of the overall yield and figures very importantly in computing a bond's "yield to maturity," which in the case of a discount bond is of prime importance.

On the day your letter arrived the same bonds were at 87. So the current yield has fallen to 3.91 per cent. But the yield to maturity — counting on that 33 point rise to par in 1986 — was 7.61 per cent. That's a very important figure since it is obvious that no one would buy a bond for a 3.91 per cent current return alone.

Where you are wrong, however, is in saying that since he paid 60 1/2 for a 2 1/2 per cent coupon bond his current yield will always be 4.35 per cent. Not so. His current yield on his investment, as we have seen, is 3.91 per cent ($16.25 annual interest divided by a market price of $67.00 or $100 face value bond). And as the bond approaches maturity in 1986 the current yield will decrease further and more and more of the investor's total reward will have to come from the price appreciation to par (100).

Edison's Earnings Rise 51%

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Edison Co. earnings rose 51 per cent — to $101 million — for the 12 months ended March 31, the firm reported at its annual stockholders' meeting Monday.

Earnings per share rose 41 per cent to $1.93, a smaller percentage increase, because the number of shares outstanding rose from 49 million to 52.5 million.

Exxon Has Sales Gain, Profit Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — Exxon Corp., the world's largest oil company, reported Monday that first-quarter net income dipped 11.6 per cent to $1.44 a share from $1.63 a year ago.

Total net income was $645 million on sales of $14.3 billion, versus $730 million on sales of $13.08 billion in 1976.

In the 1977 quarter, there was a $74 million reduction in net gains from foreign currency exchange translations.

The elder Cessna says his children are tough fighters. For instance, they picketed the stables on Lincoln's Birthday when he told them they couldn't take the day off from their rounds as had promised.

They borrowed $250 from the owner of the development to buy a motor-scooter with a small pickup trailer to help with their street-cleaning contract.

The elder Cessna said he sometimes has uses for the vehicle. KIDCO told him he should feel free to use the scooter, so long as he signed a contract agreeing to pay a rental fee.

The

Two Men Handed Prison Sentences

"You invaded a private residence which was occupied by an elderly, disabled man," Berrien Circuit Judge Julian E. Hughes said yesterday in sentencing a rural Benton Harbor man to prison.

Receiving a 5 to 15-year prison term for breaking and entering was Peter J. Gonzales, 56. He was charged with breaking into the residence of Horace Hines, 73, at 257 Second Street, Benton Harbor, on Nov. 7.

Some clothing, change, and a radio were stolen in the burglary, but were later recovered. Another charge of unarmed robbery against Gonzales was previously dismissed.

Eddie J. Warship, 32, of Waukegan, Ill., was sentenced to 1 to 2½ years in prison by Judge William S. White for attempted carrying a concealed weapon, a .44 revolver Jan. 4 in Lake township.

In other sentences by Hughes: Maynard E. Boyd, Jr., 25, of 585 McAllister Avenue, Benton Harbor, was placed on three years probation with the first four months in jail for assault with intent to rob while armed, and assessed $300 fine and costs. He was charged with aiding in the gunpoint assault of Percy Carr at Johnnie's Fashion in Benton Harbor on Jan. 19.

Elroy Dekine, 44, of 883 Edgumbe, Benton Harbor, got 90 days in jail for possession of an unregistered gun, a .22 caliber pistol, Sept. 3 in Benton Harbor.

Paul X. McKinley, 20, of Lansing, was placed on one year probation and assessed $400 fine and costs for possession of cocaine July 25, 1975, in St. Joseph.

Samuel J. Murphy, 21, of 1829 Michigan Avenue, Niles, was placed on three years probation and assessed $400 fine and costs for larceny from a motor vehicle — the theft of a CB radio from a car in Buchanan March 1.

In arraignments before Judge Chester J. Byrns:

William T. Cooper, 61, of 3486 Naomi Road, Sodas township, pleaded guilty to assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder against Virginia Johnson with a shotgun April 3 in Sodas township.

Dennis B. Norton, 30, and Edward Jones, 29, both of Inkster, both pleaded innocent to charges of violation of the controlled substance act second offense (possession of heroin) April 8 in Waterliet township.

Alva W. Young, 38, of South Bend, pleaded no contest to a charge of negligent homicide. He was charged as the driver of a car which killed Stafford D. Clark June 3, 1975, in Niles township.

Larry L. Ware, 21, of Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to assault with intent to commit criminal sexual conduct (formerly assault with intent to commit statutory rape) with a 5-year-old girl March 23 in Benton Harbor.

Lathe D. Young, 20, of 1325 Hurd Avenue, Benton township, pleaded guilty to attempted larceny in a building — the attempted theft of cash from the Plaza Shell station in Benton township on March 21.

County, Michigan in Liber 908 of mortgages on pages 585-586; on which mortgage there is claimed to be due and unpaid at the date of this Notice Twenty Thousand Eight Hundred Seventy-Eight and 83/100—dollars ($20,878.83) principal and Two Thousand Three Hundred Four and 50/100—dollars (2,304.50) interest; no suit or proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt, or any part of the debt, secured by said mortgage, and the power of sale contained in said mortgage having become operative by reason of said default;

Felony Hearings Asked By Five In Berrien Court

HARD LINE: President Carter reversed an earlier decision and chose career diplomat Malcolm Toon, above, to the U.S. ambassador to Moscow. Toon's nomination, first announced by then-President Gerald Ford after Carter was elected, was withdrawn by the Carter administration along with other pending nominations. Monday's White House announcement of the reinstatement indicated the administration wants a diplomat with a reputation of taking a hard-line in U.S.-Soviet relations. (AP Wirephoto)

Two LaCrosse, Ind., men demanded preliminary examinations Monday in Berrien District court on charges of resisting arrest April 25 in New Buffalo township.

Jailed in lieu of bonds of $2,000 each were Rodney and Richard Czarnecki, 18 and 19, respectively.

Others demanding examinations were:

Willie Miles, 41, of 1038 Blossom Lane, Benton township, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, a shotgun, against Betty Miles in Benton township April 23. He was jailed in lieu of $5,000 bail.

George E. Grosse, 19, of Three Oaks, accused of two counts of assault with a deadly weapon, a shotgun, against James and William Kuiper April 23 in Three Oaks. He failed to post $15,000 bail.

Mark A. Campbell, 18, of 607 North Winans, Benton Harbor, on a charge of breaking into a Benton Harbor garage April 18. Bond of $1,500 was not posted. Sentenced were:

Lorenza Stovall, 18, of 348 Linden, Benton township, fine and costs of $32 for assault and battery against Sharon Fryson in Benton township April 21.

Valerie Rand, 23, of 951 Waukonda Avenue, Benton Harbor, $32 for creating a disturbance at the county jail April 21. Otis K. Lewis, 20, of 821

Richard, Watervliet, $250 or 75 days in jail for driving while intoxicated, second offense, April 23 in Coloma township.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Driving while license suspended — Lyle A. Simcox, 35, of Michigan City, Ind., three days in jail and $100; Ollie Kiser, 25, of 567 Britain Avenue, and James Conner, Jr., 47, of 1946 East Britain Avenue, both Benton Harbor, each three days in jail and $71.

Use of marijuana — Gregory A. Markevicius, 19, of Homewood, Ill., and Jeffrey C. Delaney, 19, of Chicago Heights, Ill., each $100 and six months probation; Doreen Sue Fellner, 18, of 613 Lake Street, St. Joseph, and Eric J. Wieser, 21, of 1058 Fairlawn Road, St. Joseph township, each $50.

Impaired driving — Michael K. Magee, 24, of Rantoul, Ill., $200 or 30 days in jail; Kandy A. Carlson, 17, of Crete, Ill., $152 or 30 days in jail; Eileen Sue Rose, 22, of 4382 Ridge Road, Stevensville, $152 and, for use of marijuana, $100 and six months probation.

Also yesterday Daniel J. Burreson, 23, of 2403 Lake View Avenue, St. Joseph, pleaded innocent to a charge of aggravated assault against Wayne O. Wyatt March 29 in St. Joseph. He was released on $2,000 personal recognizance bond.

Census Rejected By River Valley

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board voted against conducting a formal census to collect information sought in a state-ordered program to determine the number of people under 26 years of age who need special education.

The state education department permitted districts to choose between a formal census or alternate methods for collecting the data in ordering the count.

Dr. Charles Williams, schools superintendent, told the board before the vote that the names would be collected from various sources.

He said the school will (1) take the names and numbers of younger children in families who register kindergarten pupils in May; (2) search student records now on file for indications of younger children in the families; (3) survey local Realtors, utility companies and builders for new families in the district; and (4) use a community education survey team to assist in collection of the data.

In other areas, the board nominated Mrs. Maureen Burden, Mrs. Rose Lanier and Mrs. Pat Lewis for possible appointment to a Berrien intermediate school district special education parent-advisory committee.

An application to Berrien county for four CETA employees who would do school building wall repair, painting and some exterior building work was also approved by the board.

Ten sewing machines for the home economics department were also purchased by the board for a total of $2,040.

Five of the machines, Vikings, will be purchased from Munday Sewing Center in St. Joseph at a price of $298 each, and five Singer machines will be purchased from the Singer Co., of Michigan City, at a price of $149.

Man Awarded $380,000
PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A former Grand Trunk & Western Railroad brakeman, Raymond Wartella, has been awarded $380,000 for injuries suffered in a truck-train accident six years ago. Wartella, 37, was brakeman on an eight-car train that collided with a city of Pontiac road grading truck in April 1971, killing the driver of the truck. Medical witnesses testified Wartella suffered injuries to his nervous and digestive systems. Wartella sued the city in 1973, and an Oakland County circuit court jury awarded him $420,000, including interest. Pontiac officials requested a new trial, then agreed to settle for $380,000.
